MP Vankoughnet announces offer for state of the art plant in Madoc Township

by Janice Pinke

MP Bill Vankoughnet, on behalf of the Government of Canada and the Minister of State for Small Business and Tourism, the Honourable Tom Hockin, announced Wednesday evening at the Madoc Township Rec Hall that the federal government will make an offer of assistance in the amount of $4,664,621 to Granmarble Inc., a division of International Larder Minerals Limited of Toronto, to establish an agglomerated dimension stone production facility in Madoc Township.

The offer of assistance is made in the form of a repayable loan. International Larder Minerals will have 90 days in which to accept the offer.

If accepted, a spokesman for the company Jim Donoghue, says that the plant should be operational in less than two years from now.

Rumor and speculation had been circulating throughout Madoc for over a year regarding a mystery company coming to this area.

Donoghue says it will be an extremely large plant because the raw material to be extracted has to be kept dry. The company is looking at the possibility of establishing inflatable buildings.

There is only one other plant in the world that manufactures this material and it is in Italy. International Larder will export the material to the States and Europe. Canadian distribution has already been confirmed.

In a telephone interview with Mr. Donoghue he estimated that 90 per cent of the estimated 125 people to be hired at the plant will be hired locally.

CHILD CARE

A child care facility is part of the overall planning of the plant allowing for equal opportunity employment.

"It's a great day for Centre Hastings," said MP Vankoughnet. "I am pleased that the federal government was able to see the merit of the project itself, and the multiplier effect it will have for the entire community."

Madoc Township's Reeve Harold Harris attended the press conference last Wednesday evening and thanked MP Vankoughnet and his government for their efforts adding that the Township could use and welcomes the new industry.

No merchants at Madoc council meeting last week

by Janice Pinke

No merchants from Madoc Village turned out at the June 27th Madoc council meeting to protest the recently enforced by-law which basically says that merchants cannot utilize the sidewalks out front of their stores.

At the council meeting last Tuesday night council decided to continue enforcing the by-law which was passed in 1954. However there will be one change.

Back in 1954 the fine for merchants putting their merchandise on the sidewalks was only $5. An amendment to that by-law is currently being drafted and should be passed within a month. Merchants can expect to be fined $100 for disobeying the by-law.

Grant Smith, Madoc's part-time by-law enforcement officer, says that the whole crux of this by-law is that if someone falls on the village's sidewalks and hurts themselves due to merchandise on them then the village, not the merchant, is liable.

Special occasion allowances can be applied for by merchants which would allow for exactly what it says, special occasions, such as the village sidewalk sale this past Canada Day, Saturday, July 1st.

Two proposed landfill sites eliminated from list of possibles

Madoc Township's is one!

by Janice Pinke

The Public Advisory Committee (PAC) for the Waste Management Master Plan held their second 'Workshop' last Tuesday evening at which they, along with public input, have eliminated two of the seven sites to be looked at as possible landfill sites.

Narrowing the number down to five, Madoc Township's site along with one in Hungerford Township (known as lot 21, 22 Conc. 4; lot 21, 22, 23 Conc. 5) have both been "basically eliminated from the list of possibles" according to PAC Chairperson Wybeke Tjaardstra of Madoc Township.

Wybeke continued saying that the rest of the 'Master Plan' has been put "on hold" until PAC members, the Steering Committee, Proctor and Redfern consultants and officials from the Ministry of the Environment can get it all "sorted out".

"We don't want to screw up," Last Tuesday's workshop was an excellent example of public participation and we want to take our time instead of blindly going on" says the Madoc Township representative.

A press release Wednesday from the PAC committee says "the Public Advisory Committee takes the position that the workshop to be held Tuesday, June 27th cannot make a valid and supportable decision reducing the seven proposed sites to two or three and is therefore declaring said workshop to be constituted for the purposes of hearing the submissions of the consultants only and of general public information".

The first step in getting it all "sorted out" will come July 20th; the next meeting of the Steering Committee in Ivanhoe.

The PAC member in your area is Doug Nilson in Madoc Village, Wybeke Tjaardstra in Madoc Township, Leigh Caldwell in Huntingdon Township and Gary Magwood in Hungerford Township.

Sort it
and it is FREE!

by Janice Pinke

At the June 27th meeting of Madoc council it was decided that there will be no charge issued to those people bringing their recyclables to the dump already sorted.

Grant Smith, Madoc's landfill site co-ordinator, says that there is still no charge for your household waste and for example, if someone brings in a load of metal (which is recyclable) they won't be charged for dumping it at Madoc's landfill site.

He continued saying that an example of a fee being levied would be if someone brought in a load of lumber; lumber is not a recyclable product.

Longer hours

Employee Karen Tryon stores one of the more popular brands of whiskey at the recently opened LCBO store at the Shell station in Kaladar. Competing against the other LCBO stores, owners of this store have extended their hours: Monday to Friday 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Friday and Saturday 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. Allow yourself a half hour drive from Madoc: The LCBO store is closed Sundays however, their restaurant and convenience is open. The store averaged over 500 customers during its first week of operation.

Highlites of the regular June meeting of Madoc council

The regular meeting of council was held June 27th with all present except for Reeve Deline, who is on holidays, and councillor Harrop.

* Discussion took place on the Moira River Conservation Authority request to have the Village cut the grass behind the Whytock house with Council agreeing that the Village will cut it from now on. Council will see if student(s) can be contracted, using their own equipment to cut grass for the Village.

* Councillor Crawford said that he attended a Kiwanis Club meeting with regard to the Club using the Village signs to note their Club's presence in the Village. The matter was laid over to the next regular meeting.

* Councillor Pigden said that the Burke pool on Rollins Street is not fenced. Foreman Crawford said that he thinks the pool has been removed; he will check.

* Council will make an application to the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation for a 1990

Capital Program to renovate the ball park canteen.

* Council is sending a letter to Mrs. Robinson advising that council is considering increasing the hours of the animal control officer.

* Council decided to hire Deanna Kirkwood and Sean Brown of Madoc Village to operate the Mini-Putt/Driving Range.

* Councillor Crawford said that a lot of people are starting to complain about the sight of the old McCann building on St. Lawrence St. Council will send a letter requesting that the property be cleaned up.

* A by-law was passed requiring a survey and survey stakes for building permit requirements.

* Deputy-Reeve Matchett advised that Reeve Deline wants a letter sent to the Ministry of Transportation Ontario for a study for an overpass or traffic lights for the highway 762 intersection; she suggested this be held over until the Reeve is present.

Children's summer program at Madoc library

by Ene Reid

The Madoc Public Library will once again host a Summer Fun programme. For eight weeks, beginning July 5th, Wednesday afternoons will be filled with special activities for children. Sessions run from 1:00 o'clock onward and are free of charge. Have fun this summer - join us at the library for crafts, stories, films, and more!

Extraction permissible under Mining Act

by Janice Pinke

You learn something new everyday; a cliché which has been proven to this reporter time and time again and again last week.

In the June 28th issue of the Madoc Review in the article about Elzevir/Grimsthorpe council turning down a proposed amendment to a by-law, this reporter was under the impression that that council had originally given 'Queensborough Road Properties Ltd.' permission to extract a sample from their mine of 1000 tonnes.

Not so. Ministry of Natural Resources Resident Geologist Paul Kingston says that the bulk sample the company extracted back in February is permissible under the Mining Act and is defined as being "for testing only; it cannot be sold for profit".

Paul says "they could still go in and take another sample but they couldn't sell it".

The next step for Queensborough Road Properties Ltd. is to appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board.

My apologies to Elzevir/Grimsthorpe council.

50th Anniversary!

Joe and Madeline Roy of Old Marmora Road celebrated their 50th anniversary this past Sunday at Madoc's Kiwanis Centre. They've lived in their Old Marmora Road home for the past 40 years. Madeline was born in Queensborough, while her husband Joe hails from Actinolite. Helping the couple celebrate their golden anniversary were many family and friends.

Employees of Ma Bell snuck into Madoc recently and installed a brand new telephone booth at Madoc's Dixie Lee restaurant. When this reporter got there, neighbourhood kids were already busy checking it out.

$500 jackpot game changes

by Janice Pinke
Since Madoc's 'Dabber' bingo started four weeks ago, nobody has been able to win the $500 jackpot which is up for grabs every Tuesday night. Therefore, organizers have changed the prize structure of the jackpot game. For fifty numbers you'll take home $500. For fifty-one numbers, $400; for fifty-two numbers, $300; for fifty-three numbers, $200; and for fifty-four numbers $100. Finally, for 55 numbers or more you'll grab a $75 jackpot. Another change in the 'Dabber' bingo format is there will be no more 50/50 draws. Instead a $75 prize is being substituted, making it easier for volunteers who run the show every Tuesday.

The games start at 7:15 p.m. every Tuesday, upstairs in the air-conditioned facilities of Madoc's Legion Branch 363. A concession is operated by Legionnaires throughout the evening offering coffee, soft drinks and some munchies.

A little big update!

by Janice Pinke

The Centre Hastings Big Brothers/Big Sisters Association is always looking for 'big' volunteers and 'little' volunteers. However according to Executive Director Margaret Cooper, the Association has never been in a better position with most matches a success and most 'littles' are matched with 'bigs'.

The key word in the last sentence is "most". Here's what is happening with the Association where you live.

MADOC

The Madoc program has been very successful with two little brothers currently waiting for big brothers. An application has been submitted to Margaret Cooper from a big brother but she is uncertain as to whether or not she can match the 'big' with either of the 'littles'.

MARMORA

Marmora currently has no

applications on file for either big brothers or big sisters. Waiting for a 'big' are three littles brothers and one little sister.

STIRLING

Stirling has two boys waiting for some companionship. Currently all sisters both 'little' and 'big' are successfully matched.

TWEED

Tweed has got three big sister and no little ones match with them. Currently there are no applications from big brothers and there is a boy waiting for one.

Margaret says to give her call free of obligation. Madoc's Health Unit, 473-4241

Cycling trials in Bannockburn - Championships in Roseneath

This coming Saturday and Sunday (July 8th & 9th) Bannockburn and Roseneath will host the 1989 Ontario Cycling Championships.

One of the organizers, John Hastings of Cooper, says that the competition draws out coaches and spotters who are looking for cyclists who they can groom to compete at the international level such as the Olympics or on National teams.

Cycling trials in Bannockburn

On Saturday, July 8th beginning at 8 a.m. the 'Individual and Team Time Trials' will begin and end in Bannockburn, located on highway 62 north of Eldorado. The Time Trials is a race against the clock; fastest time wins. One hundred competitors are expected to compete and because of this, drivers will be dispersed from the starting line at one minute intervals.

The more important race begins at 8:30 a.m. Sunday, July 9th in Roseneath. Organizers expect between 300 and 400 competitors in the 'Road Race Championships'. There will be one individual winner although competitors race as teams "conscious of assisting each other" says John Hastings. An estimated 40 competitors will be women.

The event qualifies for the Ontario Cup and will be an important selection event for the Ontario Team.

Bannockburn's 'Time Trials' is expected to end around noon Saturday with Roseneath's ending at approximately 2 or 2:30 p.m.

The event is organized by the Central Ontario Racing Cycle Club and the Ontario Cyclists Association.

Tip For The Week

Three easy tricks for better BBQ results: Attempt to bring your meat to 70° just before cooking; using meat fat or vegetable oil, grease the grill first; Do not apply BBQ sauces until the last minutes of cooking.

GLASS TIGER COMES TO CAMPBELLFORD

Glass Tiger rocked Campbellford Arena, June 30, to help kick off Canada Day weekend.

All the members of the band, Allan Frew, lead vocals, Wayne Parker, bass, Micheal Hanson, drums, Al Connelly, guitar, and Sam Reid, keyboards, were at the arena, including two female backup singers. The band played for over 1,400 listeners from around the area.

The Rotary Club, responsible for getting the band to come to Campbellford, originally booked Burton Cummings to appear. Cummings cancelled, and his agent promised a big band to replace him. Glass Tiger agreed, as long as the money went to a good cause. The Rotary Club will use the money towards the community.

The well behaved crowd paid $22.50 at the door, and $18.50 in advance to see the band.

Opening for the band was Jeffrey Hatcher and the Big Beat, a small band from Winnipeg that just got a recording contract. The band hopes to be around in the future.

Allan Frew, lead singer of Glass Tiger sang songs from their two albums, as well as Hippy Hippy Shake from the movie Cocktail.

"P.U.S.H. is the top organization in Ontario. It is the most knowledgeable and active organization." These were the words of Hon. Remo Mancini as he addressed the six P.U.S.H. regions at their annual general meeting held in Toronto on June 16 and 17. Mancini has been Minister of the Disabled for 18 months. He was proud of the second accessibility week held in Canada in two years. Twice as many communities participated as last year.

He traced the history of P.U.S.H. (People United for Self-Help) that was begun eight years ago. Thousands of people express gratitude to the charter members. Because of their initiative thousands of members can be more successful. Today there are a million disabled people in Canada.

"Disabled people are among the thousands who advise and lobby government. The health and social ministers have contributed 38 million.

Hearing Ear Dogs of Canada

At Hearing Ear Dogs of Canada training centre on Highway 2 just west of Ancaster, Ontario.

Specialty selected dogs are being taught how to respond to different sounds of everyday life such as: smoke detectors, fire alarms; door bells, alarm clocks, T.T.V. telephones, appliance timers, a baby crying, intruders, kettle whistling, even someone calling a person's name. Noises that hearing people take for granted are now accessible to the Hearing Impaired through the use of Hearing Ear dogs.

Any person interested in receiving a Hearing Dog through a local Lions Club or contact Hearing Ear Dog Training Centre, Ancaster, Ontario, (416) 648-1522, TDD (416) 648-2262.

HINTS

Grab bars at various places in the kitchen to help you move around without having to keep your cane or crutches always at hand.

A broom-holder clip attached to the edge of the cabinet to keep your cane or crutch from falling to the floor when not in use.

A disability is a physical problem. The amount of handicap depends on how you deal with it

Strawberry Cream Squares

1 package lemon cake mix
Eggs
Water
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 package strawberry-flavour whipped-dessert mix
Milk
1-1/2 cups strawberries, washed, hulled and sliced thin
1 cup cream for whipping
Grease 2 baking pans (15"x10") line bottoms with wax paper, grease paper. (if you have only one pan, bake half of the batter at a time, keeping remainder chilled.)

Prepare cake mix with eggs and water, following label directions; stir in almond extract. Pour half of the batter into each pan. Bake in moderate oven (350) 20 minutes or until centres spring back when lightly pressed with fingertip. Cool in pans on wire racks 5 minutes. Loosen around edges with a knife, invert onto racks; peel off wax paper, cool cake completely. Prepare whipped-dessert mix with milk and water, following label directions, fold in 1 cup strawberries. Place one cake layer on a large cookie sheet or tray, spread strawberry mixture over top, cover with remaining cake layer. Chill at least an hour, or until filling is set.

Just before serving, beat cream until stiff in a medium-size bowl. Cut cake crosswise into eighths and lengthwise into fifths, spoon a dollop on top of each piece, garnish with remaining strawberry slices. CHOW! See You Next Week!

Youthful excellence

Rewarding youthful excellence: Norwood legion Branch 300 held its 14th annual Canada Day celebration Saturday and topped the afternoon's events with the presentation of two special awards. The first was the Youth Award given to Kelly Sedgwick and Susan Carlow. They are shown above with organizer, Comrade Ben Ruddell. The second award was made by Reeve Dave McNeil to former Reeve Joan Marshall whose tirelessness helped make the Norwood Community Care organization a reality.

GRANTING A CHILD'S WISH

The Children's Wish Foundation of Canada is a federally chartered, non-profit organization, whose primary objective is to grant the special wishes of children suffering from a terminal illness.

The foundation operates provincial chapters all across Canada. Wish requests are received by provincial directors, who are responsible for obtaining verification and consent from the child's physician. Great care is taken to ascertain that the request is truly the wish of the child. The wish is then processed by the National Office, where the arrangements are completed.

The only stipulations are that the parents or legal guardians must consent to our involvement, a doctor must sign the medical release and the children must not have reached their 18th birthday at the time the request is received.

As public awareness has increased, so has the number of children requesting our assistance. In many cases the child's time may be limited and we must take immediate action. This requires a constant source of funds. The foundation's sole means of support is through the donations of companies, unions, service groups and the Canadian public. Please lend support to our objective; that we will never be forced to turn away a wish child. Help us make their dreams come true.

WE WISH TO ACKNOWLEDGE YOUR CONTRIBUTION TO THIS MOST WORTHWHILE CAUSE.
THANK YOU.

Standing tough: While the weather was a bit too cold for baseball Wednesday night in Norwood as Hastings and Norwood squared off, the action around homeplate positively cooked as Norwood's Duwayne Crawford made a number of sharp plays including the final out, shown above. Norwood edged the visitors 5-4 in a game that took just one hour to play.

Scott also survived by several aunts, uncles and cousins on both sides of the family. Scott was a well known and active boy in all three schools he attended, being Kent St. Public, Hillcrest Public, and Campbellford District High. As a youngster, Scott enjoyed and participated in various sports activities, his favourite being billiards, fishing and hunting. Funeral service for Scott was held on June 21 at the Weaver Funeral Home with Rev. Owen MacPhearson officiating. Scott's dear friends, Dave Milne, Kevin Gaskin, Dave Turner, Sean Forestall, John Kelleher, and cousin George Scott Jr. were Pall Bearers. Assisting with flowers were Dave Fletcher, Bill Reid, Pat Ker, and Gene Dewey. Although Scott was with us for a short 18 years, he has left some lasting and treasured memories. Free admission into midway on the Friday

by Janice Pinke

There have been some changes for the July 29th and 30th 'Mid-Summer Carnival' at Madoc's fairgrounds.

Firstly, the midway will be operational on the Friday night (July 28th) with no admission being charged. The admission price comes Saturday and Sunday and is $4 for adults, $1 for ages 16 and under and free for pre-schoolers.

A women's class has been added to the Demolition Derby starting at 7 p.m. Saturday night. That is only if enough women register. A mini-car class has also been added for four cylinder cars. To register you should call Bonnie Baker in the evenings at 473-2686.

Organizers are still looking for people to participate in the Craft Show and Flea Market during that weekend. Tables cost $10 per day and organizers suggest that maybe someone would like to utilize one of the spaces who was planning a yard sale.

An ATV Skill Driving Challenge will do just that - test your skill according to John Hastings, a carnival organizer. Participants can expect to be blindfolded plus a variety of other skill testing games including something to do with hot dogs! Call Bill Baker about this event at 473-2972.

A full itinerary will appear in this paper the week prior to Madoc's 'Mid-Summer Carnival'.

Madoc's mini-putt/driving range opened this past Saturday

The grand opening of Madoc's mini-putt and driving range was held last Friday afternoon. Teeing off for the first time (from front) Deanna Kirkwood who will be working at the mini-putt/driving range; Bob Craig, Chairman of the

Moira River Conservation Authority (MRCA); Madoc's Reeve Tom Deline; Dave King, General Manager of the MRCA; Sean Browning, Deanna's counterpart and the Village's Clerk-Treasurer Doug Parks. The mini-putt opened last Saturday and you can find it by turning west off of Russell Street onto Madawaska St. The hours are 4-8 p.m. Monday to Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday. The driving range costs $3 a bucket and there are clubs available for anyone who needs one. The mini-putt costs $1 for children and $2 for adults. Flyers are being distributed throughout Madoc to it's merchants and resort communities.

The bench is now situated in the 'parkette' north of Pigden Motors on Russell Street in Madoc village. It was purchased by the Community Resource Project with the wood being supplied by the Centre Hastings Retraining Centre under the direction of Harold Foster (front). Allan McDonald from the Retraining Centre is the carpenter responsible for the wooden portion of the bench. Working together, the two programs donated the bench to the village in the memory of Bert Clare for his work as a volunteer in Madoc Village. Bert Clare was the Volunteer Citizen of the Year in 1988. Kay Peacock (rear) says Bert passed away at the beginning of this year however his efforts will be remembered when one visits the bench as a plaque on the backrest of the bench reflects this.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The Post Office Crown Corporation is boasting that they made a profit of 96 million in the last year.

Any corporation, whether a Crown Corporation or otherwise, that has a monopoly is bound to make a profit if they increase rates and at the same time reduce services.

How much the rates have increased is shown by the fact that when the peace park was organized in 1967 as part of Canada's Centennial we could mail a letter at a special discount of 3 cents. Now, 22 years later the same letter costs 38 cents without any discount. This increase is much more than inflation.

At the same time the post office has reduced services in rural areas. For example, in our area, the post office at Actinolite has been closed. Rural delivery has been reduced from six days to five days. No longer is there a morning mail delivery.

Now that the Post Office Crown Corporation is making a profit after thirty years, it does not seem wise for the government to sell the corporation to private interests, particularly when the profit comes from increased rates and reduced services.

This profit should be used to increase services and/or reduce rates.

Roy Cadwell

You have to have noticed that our Reeve Tom had shed a few (?) pounds in the last few months. When asked Tom says he has lost 55 pounds so far and he's continuing in the downward mode. Like I said Tom "looking good". For more information - like how do ya do it; contact Madoc's Reeve Tom Deline.

The Ontario Cycling Trials were held in Bannockburn last Saturday (July 8th). Basically the winner in each category clocked the fastest time. In the Men's Team Trial of 50 km's a team consisting of four men who cycle for the National Team won with a time of 1:04:46. They were P. Murray, T. Lefebvre, E. Maset, M. Orzel.

The rest of the trials were focused on individuals. In the Cadets class at 40 km's was M. Schmidt of Kitchener with a time of 1:02:07. J. Webb was the fastest in the Juniors class of 40 km's with a time of 56:49. In the Veterans class for ages 30 to 50 years a G. McLaughlin of Brockville clocked 57:28 in 40 km's. The Masters class is for those men over 50 years of age. Bill Allen aged 58 clocked the fastest time for 40 km's at 1:01:02.

Sue Palmer, a National Team rider won the Women's class with a time of 1:02:01 for 40 km's.

The Ontario Cycling Championships were held in Rosemead the next day (July 9th). Read about that on the front page of Midweek.

Heritage application

Reverend George Beals attended the June 27th meeting of Madoc council requesting a Heritage designation for his church buildings. Deputy-Reeve Lynda Matchett advised that the required procedures will be followed. A Heritage designation would mean that any renovations to the building would have to be approved by the Heritage Foundation. However that Foundation would also cover half of the costs to do so.

WILSON'S of MADOC

11 DURHAM ST. Ph. 613-473-2368

Audrie and Alan Deller found the residents of Madoc to be "friendly and helpful". This reporter interviewed them at Crystal Beach. The couple is from Carlsbad, California. What else did they have to say about Madoc?

We like to hear what the tourists have to say

by Janice Pinke

I know I love the area we live in but have you ever wondered what the people who visit this area must think.

Alan and Audrie Deller are from California but this reporter found them out at Madoc's Crystal Beach trailer park.

They've travelled alot they said, and have found the people of Madoc to be both friendly and helpful. Alan says that "alot of places aren't like that".

The Deller's thought that was a lot of activity for such a small town and they emphasized the fact that it was not what they expected; they loved the beautiful old brick/stone houses. Comparing Madoc homes to the States they said that houses where they live, California, are not half as nice as the ones here. Explaining, they said that in California the houses are constructed of wood.

Alan and Audrie are now retired and consider themselves full-time travellers. Alan was an airline pilot for BOAC.

Madoc is a thriving little town according to the Deller's. In the States most of the smaller towns they have come across have been left behind for the larger cities.

House prices in Canada according to Alan are "rediculous" and Alan feels that Canada is selling themselves to the States through the free trade agreement. He says that "Canada must want to become another State".

Audrie couldn't believe the hundreds of garage sales the couple encountered on the July 1st long weekend. The thing that was most prominent in the Deller's minds was our old brick buildings - they loved them!

Mr. and Mrs. Deller also enjoyed the surroundings of the Crystal Beach Resort. The retired couple are members of the Coast to Coast organization. Referring to the Crystal Beach staff "they've been really great".

One final note: California has no mosquitos; the government there has a spraying program to eliminate them!!!

Fun for the Kids every Wednesday

Running every Wednesday from 1 to 3 p.m. throughout the summer months at Madoc's library are fun times for kids ages 4 to 12 years. There is a different theme every week.

along with games, crafts, films and sing-a-longs. At the end of the summer is the annual costume party. For more information contact the library at 473-4456.

Number 50 Chloe Black readies herself from the starting line in Bannockburn this past Saturday. Chloe placed 13 overall in the women's class with a time of 1:08:42. The Ontario Cycling Championships were held in Roseneath the following day (July 9th). Read about it on the front page of Midweek.

Queen of the Furrow competition in August

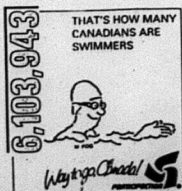

Do you like a challenge, excitement and learning opportunities? Well, if you are female and between the ages of 15 and 24, you are eligible for all of the above!

The Hastings County Queen of the Furrow Committee is looking for contestants for this year's competition. You do not have to live on a farm nor have plowing experience - a coach can be arranged. The plowing will take place at our County Match being held on Wednesday, August 23rd, at the farm of Marvin Cooney at Glen Ross Road and Highway 33, south of Stirling. The interview and speeches will be held on August 25th.

This is an excellent opportunity to develop public speaking skills, to build self confidence, and to meet people province wide.

To find out more about this fun filled competition, please contact Lori Chamberlain, R.R.5, Trenton at 968-8282, or Edna Barnum at 395-5505, or Louise Gunning, R.R.2, Tweed at 478-3225.

Order of Canada award for Madoc's renowned Dr. Godfrey

by Shannon Smith

Perhaps one of the greatest rewards of skating for 12 long hard years is an injury this reporter sustained on her left foot. An injury that was treated by Dr. Charles Godfrey who was recently appointed as a member of the Order of Canada.

While under his supervision I learned a great many things about this man and developed an appreciation for his profound skills as a physician.

Members of the Order of Canada are designated so for their distinguished service in or to a particular locality, group or field of activity. To become appointed you must be nominated by a person or organization that submits the nomination to the Secretary General of the Order for Consideration.

If approved an Advisory Council, under the Chairmanship of the Chief Justice of Canada, has the task of assessing the relative merits of the person(s) who are nominated for the Order.

Those names are recommended to the Governor General who are considered to be especially worthy of the appointment. A maximum of 92 persons may be appointed in a given year.

New members are invited to an investiture ceremony at one of the official residences of the Governor General where they receive the Badge of the Order from the hands of the Chancellor (Governor General). "I'm greatly honoured to receive this award," said Dr. Godfrey when I talked to him at his home near Eldorado.

Dr. Godfrey was born in Detroit but came to Toronto when he was 6 months old. He served with the Air Force for 5 1/2 years and afterwards went to medical school where he received a scholarship to go overseas for a year. When he returned to Toronto he worked at Sunnybrook Hospital and then at Wellesley Hospital where he has been for 30 years and presently holds the position of Director of Rehabilitation Medicine.

Dr. Godfrey and his wife Margaret are part of Care Canada, an organization which was originally founded in 1946 to help aid in World War II. Since then the organization has spread into eight countries with its main interest being third world countries.

By invitation Dr. and Mrs. Godfrey get called upon by such places as Afghanistan, Nicaragua, China, Kenya, Turkey, Russia, Monaco and they recently returned from Armenia. He plans to go to Ughanda in the fall. "These can be very dangerous trips, a lot of places we go to are constantly involved in war", said Godfrey.

What the Godfreys do is help the native people to set up and operate their own schools and hospitals. They also help the women of the third world countries who are treated unfairly. For example, if an unwed woman has a child she will become an outcast in the village. Dr. and Mrs. Godfrey teach them their rights, how to handle money, educate them and even show them such traits as goat herding.

From 1972 to 1975 Dr. Godfrey lead the fight to stop the planning of an airport in Pickering (where he lived for 12 years) that would mean destroying valuable farm land. The organization held 14,000 members and raised $200,000 and eventually won the fight.

With five books already under his belt, two concerning the history of medicine, one dealing with the Pickering airport and two on medicine, Dr. Godfrey is currently working on his sixth book about John Rolph, the father of Ontario medicine, a lawyer and a politician. Rolph lived in Cobourg from 1798 to 1865.

If that isn't enough Dr. Godfrey speaks six different languages and teaches medicine at the University of Toronto.

GYPSY MOTH SPRAYING PROGRAM

Applications are now available to landowners who wish to participate in the 1990 Gypsy Moth Spray Program. This is a voluntary program and landowners must apply to be included.

Because of a 75% subsidy from the Ministry of Natural Resources, the cost to the landowner is $5.00 per acre.

Applications should be completed and returned as soon as possible so that spray blocks can be made up and mapped. The deadline is January 31, 1990.

For further information and applications contact your local municipal office or the undersigned.

The last official OPP Corporal is Corp. Binkley, who is chief of the Good Bears on Patrol—new companions of OPP officers. Good Bears on Patrol is the brainchild of Lee Wansbrough, of Fergus.

OPP have Good Bears On Patrol

by Nancy Powers

Having something warm and fuzzy to snuggle up is almost always reassuring that things are "O.K.". Well, from now on, the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) will get "a warm feeling" when they share a teddy bear with a car accident or trauma victim.

Yes, that right, "Good Bears On Patrol" have joined the OPP and by September every cruiser in Ontario (except the Vice squad) will have a teddy bear as a travelling companion.

The concept for "Good Bears On Patrol" comes from six-foot, eight inch man named Lee Wansbrough, of Fergus. He has been collecting teddy bears since he was little and has 1,500 in his personal collection.

Back tracking a little, Lee and his wife Judy, are members of Good Bears of the World (GBW), a worldwide organization with a goal of putting a teddy bear into the arms of every hospitalized child and every nursing home resident.

For Lee, being a member of GBW was fine, there were no "dens" (or chapters) in Canada so Lee started the Fergus-Elora Den in 1987. Providing teddy bears (free of charge) costs money, so the "Den" went to their local bank and took out a $4,000 loan.

INSULATED ENTRY DOOR SYSTEMS

Galvanized, rigid steel insulated doors have compression weatherstripping to seal out wind and dust, and ensure an airtight system. An extruded aluminum, thermally broken sill protects against condensation and frost build-up. Your choice of co-ordinating sidelights, leaded glass and vented panels let sunlight and fresh air in and beauty to your entryway.

TERRACE DOOR

The new alternative to the patio door, the Terrace Door is a steel insulated door with maintenance-free vinyl cladding. Available as a double or triple door, the operating door opens on 180 degree hinges allowing it to fold all the way back so no space is lost. A sliding screen protects against insects and full length beveled glass is available in a variety of patterns and styles to complement your home.

Highlites from the Huntingdon Township council meeting

Crop Drought Assistance Program to be persued by Huntingdon Township council

* The road Superintendent advised Council of a situation on the Quin-Mo-Lac Road where a property owner requires a culvert for an entrance off the 12th concession. Albert Vos is the owner of Pt. Lot 15, concession 11 and has been driving through the ditch to gain access to his property.

Moved by Ted Pollock and Seconded by Bill Rollins, "That correspondence be forwarded to Mr. Vos advising that it is Township policy to invoice the property owner $400.00 when a culvert is required to gain access to their property and further, That the appropriate invoice be forwarded to Mr. Vos for payment." Carried.

Two tenders were received for single surface treatment HF150 on the Quin-Mo-Lac Road, 12th Concession. Bidders were asked to tender two ways. First Tender A - supply and apply the emulsion, supply, haul and spread Class 2 aggregate. Second Tender B - supply and apply the emulsion and spread Class 2 aggregate. Under Tender B, the Township would be supplying and hauling the Class 2 aggregate for a total tender price of $46,196.00, subject to Ministry of Transportation approval." Carried.

* A discussion took place regarding the CN property at Moira Lake which the Township will be purchasing, fill has been removed and the embankment has been lowered and sloped back. It was noted that topsoil and grass seed is needed to complete the project.

Moved by Walton Reid, Seconded by Bill Rollins, "That the Road Superintendent be authorized to expend the necessary funds to complete the landscaping project on the CN right-of-way at Moira Lake and that a strip of gravel be left along the inside of the ditch, if required."

* Donna and Richard Burdzy, owners of Pt. Lot 11, Concession 13 attended the meeting to advise Council that they are interested in purchasing the CN right-of-way which splits their property. The Burdzy's were advised that the deed transferring the property from CN to the Township has not yet been registered. They will be kept advised of future developments.

* A delegation comprised of Doug Farrell, Gordon Donnan and Ken Yarrow attended the meeting to discuss the Federal Government Drought Assistance Program. Drought assistance is being provided to eligible farmers under the Canadian Crop Drought Assistance Program. In Ontario, drought zones have been defined based on preliminary 1988 Ontario Crop Insurance Yield Data.

Mr. Farrell explained that all the surrounding townships such as Rawdon, Madoc, Hungerford and Thurlow, all qualify for assistance but Huntingdon doesn't. The drought zones are based on Crop Insurance Data and would be affected if the farmer does not have insurance or if a claim is not filed. The Federal Government has already made payment on hay crops in Huntingdon Township, so in effect, has admitted there is a drought problem. The delegation is interested in seeing Huntingdon Township recognized as a drought area for grain, soybean and corn crops.

Moved by Walton Reid, Seconded by Bill Rollins, "That the Clerk be requested to send correspondence to the Canadian Crop Drought Assistance Program Producers Review committee requesting that Huntingdon Township be declared a drought area and that the farmers be eligible for assistance under the Canadian Crop Drought Assistance Program." Carried.

* A discussion took place regarding the number of accidents which have occurred at the intersection of Highway 62 and Highway 7, Village of Madoc. The Village of Madoc is investigating the possibility of traffic lights and a preview of the signs.

Moved by Bill Rollins, Seconded by Ted Pollock, "That a letter be forwarded to the Ministry of Transportation requesting a review of the signing requirements at the intersection of Hwy. 62 and Hwy. 7, and that the visibility and sight lines be checked to determine if any hazards exist." Carried.

* A discussion took place regarding the project at the Moira Community Hall which is being funded through the Ministry of Tourism and volunteer labour and materials. It was discussed that there is a need for advancement of funds to purchase items which cannot be charged.

* Moved by Ted Pollock, Seconded by Bill Rollins, "That the reports of Livestock Valuer Gordon Preston be received and that Don Alexander be paid $95.70 for one lamb killed by wolves and $120.00 for two lambs killed by dogs and further, that Ethel Mae Francis be paid $52.50 for one lamb killed by wolves and that the Ministry of Agriculture be invoiced for the kills involving wolves." Carried.

* Council received copies of the Tri-Council meeting which was held May 25th, 1989 in Ivanhoe. A discussion took place regarding the letters which were received from the Village of Madoc requesting that taxpayers be advised of changes to the Madoc Landfill site. It was noted that the changes would be incorporated on June 15, 1989 and that the office staff has been advising taxpayers who inquire about location of the dump and the dump hours, of these changes.

* A letter was received from Leigh Caldwell, Huntingdon Township's representative on the Public Advisory Committee requesting payment of mileage to attend meetings.

Moved by Bill Rollins, Seconded by Walton Reid, "That the Treasurer be authorized to issue a cheque in the amount of $109.45 to Leigh Caldwell in payment of mileage to attend PAC meetings in Ivanhoe."

* A discussion took place regarding the possibility of purchasing a new flag pole before Canada Day. It was discussed that perhaps the present pole could be straightened and painted.

Moved by Vernon Cooney, Seconded by Bill Rollins, "That no action be taken at this time for the purchase of a new flag pole." Carried.

Two pails

Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, who supervised the creation of the first atomic bomb, appeared before a Congressional Committee. They inquired of him if there was any defense against the weapon. "Certainly," the great physicist replied.

"And that is -?"
Dr. Oppenheimer looked over the hushed, expectant audience and said softly: "Peace."
Peace is always the solution to strife. But, as I write this article I am asking myself the question, "Am I a peacemaker?" Perhaps, we might all address this question.

Day in and day out, we are faced with situations where we can be a peacemaker or we can add to the already existing strife.

A peacemaker puts out a fire with his hose attached to a fire truck. A strife enhancer turns his hose in the direction of the fire too. But, his hose is attached to a gasoline truck. The peacemaker puts the fire out. The strife enhancer adds fuel to the fire.

Some of the seemingly most harmless people you can meet may turn out to be pyromaniacs. Little old ladies (they can be larger and younger as well and for that matter, they do not even have to be female), our brothers and sisters, our next door neighbours, and our coffee mug club. The only qualifications for such flame-throwers are a mouth and two big ears.

If we could only imagine hearing the siren and wall of red fire engines everytime someone decides to refuse to be a peacemaker, why, the airwaves would be screaming with sirens. Perhaps if our lack of peacemaking were to be illustrated by elevating curls of swirling smoke above every spot where we had caused strife, then we might pause to reflect on whether we should continue to cause strife. Maybe if the effects of our actions became so visual, we might be more inclined to bury the hatchet and sow a kind word.

Someone shared a beautifully clear illustration with me one day concerning the issue we have been discussing. I would like to share it with you.

Every individual carries two buckets all the time. One pail is full of water. The other bucket is brimming with gasoline. Whenever a person sees a situation smoldering with strife, he has a conscious decision to make. He can pour out his bucket of water on the smoke and quench the smoldering. Or, he can empty his bucket of gasoline and ignite a roaring destructive fire.

I believe Jesus would wish us to dose the flames and bring peace. Jesus said, "Blessed are the peacemakers." (Matthew 5:9) Paul also exhorts us to, "...follow after the things which make for peace..." (Romans 14:11) This can only be accomplished as we consciously empty our bucket of water not our pail of gasoline.

Flesh fly killing off forest tent caterpillar

- * A native, naturally occurring parasite of forest tent caterpillar
- * Major factor in the collapse of tent caterpillar outbreaks
- * Population builds up in numbers during Forest Tent Caterpillar outbreaks and peaks in the declining years of Forest Tent Caterpillar infestations.
- * Resembles a large house fly with red eyes
- * Species has a single generation, live birth insect

- for up to 80% of the Forest Tent Caterpillar reduction
- * Once the surviving Forest Tent Caterpillar emerge as moths, the flies are all but finished, about mid-July
- * The maggots soon after emerge and drop to the ground to overwinter as pupae
- * Large numbers of flesh flies may persist in the following year after the collapse of the Forest Tent Caterpillars
- * Flies are most annoying for about 2 to 3 weeks leading up to the pupation of Forest Tent Caterpillars
- * Because they land on people but do not bite, they are also known as the "friendly fly"
- * NOTE: there are no records to substantiate any experimental release of these flies to accelerate the population build-up
- * Historical records indicate that the flesh fly is responsible

Ministry warns residents and tourists alike

"The high temperatures and strong, gusty winds have pushed the wildfire hazard for the Tweed District into the high range," says the Ministry of Natural Resources. "A lack of rainfall this past week has also contributed to the drying out of forest fuels throughout the area."

With the holiday season commencing this weekend, everyone is urged to use extra care with all forms of fire.

Improperly constructed campfires are a main source of ignition for wildfires during the summer months. All outdoor users must take the following precautions to ensure they have a safe campfire:

- be sure to choose an area of hard-packed earth, sand or rock;

- clear away all flammable material;

- keep your campfire small and never leave it unattended.

The most important thing to remember is to drown all campfires "Dead Out" before leaving the site.

Smoking material is also a significant source of ignition for wildfires. The public is advised to "Be Careful" with all types of smoking materials and matches. Never smoke while walking in the woods; and when driving always use your ashtray.

You can greatly reduce the potential for wildfires by disposing of all rubbish and debris at an authorized disposal site where possible.

When burning is done the following precautions must be taken to ensure it is done safely:

- remember to burn only during the cooler hours of early morning or evening;
- never burn on a dry or windy day;

- always have some fire fighting equipment such as a shovel, rake or water nearby;
- never leave a fire until it is

"Dead Out";

- be aware of local bylaws and regulations regarding debris burning - it may be necessary to obtain a free fire permit.

Former Madoc resident receives award of distinction

Bob Lynn, Technical Manager of Cereals/Rice, of the General Foods Company in Cobourg, received the prestigious Award of Distinction recently.

Bob is the son of Evelyn Lynn and the late William Lynn of Queensboro. He attended Queensboro Public School and Madoc High School and worked as a Lab Technician at Deloro Stellite in Deloro for four and a half years.

Starting as a Quality Control Technician 27 years ago, Bob has progressed through the Development function. He was instrumental in the start-up of the first Gaines burger plant, assisted in the formation of GF Canada's Quality Assurance function and in 1988 was assigned to the Cereals/Rice Department as Technical Manager to troubleshoot and resolve some process issues.

At a recent gathering, Bob was presented with a special recognition award - a diamond studded "Energy" pin to commemorate the significance of his accomplishment. Bob will have his name engraved on the plaque which is displayed at the Head Office in Don Mills. Congratulations Bob!

Notes from the O'Hara Mill staff...

by Laura Hunter
O'Hara Mill staff

Driving up to the campsite, the kids pile out of the car and head directly for the water. You relax in a lawnchair and watch. Twenty minutes later, the children approach you and you hear that all too familiar saying: "Mom, what can we do? We're bored!" All peace and tranquility has ended as you try to think of something for the kids to do.

You put the kids in the car and promise to find a store where they can get an ice cream cone. Heading west along Highway 7, you pass Madoc and pass a conservation road sign. It reads O'Hara Mill Conservation Area. As a last attempt to amuse the children, you follow the signs and stumble upon a breathtaking area. The kids perk up from the backseat as they spot the pond. "Neat!" one exclaims as he leaves the car, the others following. The children discover many bullfrogs, tadpoles, crayfish and turtles as they walk along the edge of the pond. Many science lessons that have been ignored in the classroom are being readily learned as you tell them how a tadpole develops into a bullfrog. The smaller children collect stones and arrange them on the picnic tables beneath the shelter.

The children hear a rush of water and look up to see a waterfall, created by the dam for the old mill. You and the children see a nature trail that follows the stream, and it is unanimous that you must take the trail. You instruct the children to be quiet as they might see a rabbit or chipmunk. Sure enough, two chipmunks cross your path, inches in front of your one child's feet. The kids look at each other in disbelief and walk even more softly. As they carefully walk, you recall the unforgettable times in your childhood when you walked through similar woods. Remembering what your mother told you, you tell the children of how Indians had lived in the woods. The trail has ended abruptly and has left you on a gravel road. Walking up the road, you and your children discover a beautiful heritage homestead. Only expecting a conservation area with picnic tables and nature trails, you can't believe that such a beautiful place exists. The children run to the farmhouse, open the door and gasp. It was like stepping into the past, with every room furnished the way it would have been years ago. Past the house and the schoolhouse, many other buildings are spotted, each one filled with interesting objects for the children to see. As the children ring the school bell, you relax on the grass and think to yourself that the best things are left unnoticed, and thank heaven you noticed it!

Happy Wanderings

by Eileen Chambers

A Pot Luck Dinner was enjoyed by the members of the Club at 12 o'clock on June 28th. After the meal the regular meeting opened at 1:30 with the President Laura Hannah presiding. "O Canada" was sung, then the minutes were read by the secretary, Bernice Clarke. The Treasurers report was given by Betty Lapalm.

Correspondence was read by Hilda Anderson with a letter on ageing and the need to get Volunteers to visit the Seniors, especially the Shut Ins.

Sadie Holmes gave a report on the card parties that had been held every other Wednesday at the Canadian Legion (upstairs). These went over very well, and hopefully will continue in the Fall.

The meeting closed with "God Save The Queen". Have a safe and happy summer.

The annual St. John the Baptist Anglican Church Service and Sunday School Picnic was held June 11, at K.O.A. Campground Marmora.

The day was warm and sunny, with just enough breeze to be perfect. Rev. Jim Clark officiated over the service. The Sunday School presentations began with promotion certificates given to 38 students and awards given for excellent attendance to 16 students.

Gifts of appreciation were presented to the following people who have served faithfully in St. John's Sunday School.

Mrs. Joan Wiggins, Treasurer, and Teacher, still serves as Treasurer. Mrs. Marg Keller, teacher, Mrs. Elaine Sawkins, teacher & pianist, Mrs. Joan Jankovics, teacher and past Superintendent, Miss Dawn Wiggins, pianist and teacher, Miss Karen Wiggins, teacher, Miss Sarah Parks Teacher, Miss Wendy Embleton, teacher and last but not least teachers who have served for many years and will be back next year, words of appreciation went to Mrs. Mary Jo Wannamaker, Miss Anne Carman, Mrs. Brenda Burris, Mrs.

Ileach Hart and Mrs. April Spatola. A pot-luck picnic lunch which followed the presentations was enjoyed by all.

Games and races began with a fastest runner race to start things off, followed by the 3 legged race, sack race according to age groups. Forty people participated in the water balloon toss. The rope pull is certainly worth mentioning, because of its outcome, boys and men gathered to one side of this very heavy 40ft. long rope, girls and ladies to the opposite side. Now we are ready to pull 1,2,3, heave ho and the rope broke right in the middle, not leaving many standing upright. Winners of the event were not listed here although prizes were given as all who attended were winners.

At the close of the celebration the children enjoyed ice cream.

Centre Hastings Retraining Centre

Madoc C.O.P.E. Corporation held its Annual Meeting on June 21, 1989. The business meeting was followed by dinner for staff and guests at the Two Loons Restaurant.

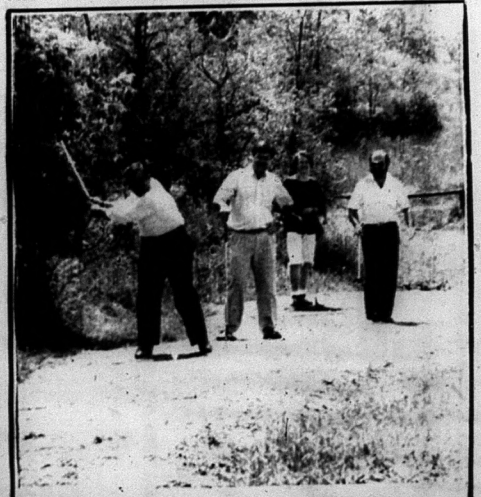

The slate of officers and directors for the upcoming year is as follows:

Officers: Chairperson, R. Bonter; Vice-Chairperson, R. Garrow; Secretary, M. Gough; Treasurer, P. Henderson. Directors: R. Henderson, Immediate Past Chairperson, P. Callaghan, M. Chard, R. Prsa.

The Board and Management of the Centre Hastings Retraining Centre would like to congratulate Sherrie LaPorte for five years of service as a Life Skills counsellor at the CHRC.

Kelly Williams, A.D.S.W. student, is working with the Seniors' program this summer through the Summer Employment/Experience Development (S.E.E.D.) program. We really appreciate her assistance.

The CHRC will be having an Activity Day on July 19th from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the O'Hara's Mill. Scheduled events for clients will include a sack race, 3-legged race, a scavenger hunt, a balloon toss and a picnic lunch. Rain date is July 20th. Volunteers and spectators are welcome to join the fun.

It's not as easy as it looks according to Madoc's Reeve Tom Deline as onlookers wait in anticipation for Tom's record winning drips. The course opened Saturday and is the beginning of what will be the Whytock recreational facilities.

Queensborough news...

QUEENSBOROUGH Many people attended visitation for the late Rex Rollins of Cooper, on Monday June 19th in McConnell's Funeral Chapel, Madoc and also the funeral on Tuesday afternoon in St. Andrews United Church Queensboro. Rev. Jeff De Jonge and Rev. Hilary (Scrutton) Merritt of Odessa officiated. Interment was in Cooper Cemetery.

A number from here attended the Holmes reunion on Saturday, June 17th in Sr. Citizens Building in Tweed.

Mrs. Arthur Holmes was hostess for U.C.W. Unit 1 on Thursday June 15th. The theme was men of the Bible.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walker visited Mr. and Mrs. Boyde Walker in Gilmour on Sunday, June 18th.

Visitors during weekend of June 17 & 18 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Clarke were: Patti Bates and Ami Villeneuve of Stratford, Ont. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Stevens of Deloro, Mr. and Mrs. James Clarke and boys of Corbyville. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Lucas and Kelly Lynn of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Turner "Sr." of Frankford, visited Goldie Holmes on Sunday evening.

The Reverends' Robert and Hilary Merritt and boys of Odessa were overnight guests of Allan and Bobbie Ramsay. Monday June 19th.

A FRIEND IN NEED IS A FRIEND INDEED
Chivalry comes in many forms, as in the case of David

Turner, 18, son of Bob and Claire Turner R.R.1, Frankford.

David went to a dance Friday June 9th, and coming home early Saturday morning saw a baby fawn lying in a mud puddle on the road.

It could not stand up, so he took it home with him, dried it off and took it to bed with him, to get it warm, as it was shivering from exposure.

Imagine the shock his mother got when she went to wake him to go to work. There he lay with the baby fawn head on his chest sound asleep.

When his mother called the authorities about it, the man asked her to repeat what she said, and did he ever laugh.

The Ministry of Natural Resources got it the next day.

AN ODE TO DAVID AND THE LITTLE FAWN

You poor little deer, lying there on the ground, on that cold dark wet morning With nobody around.

Were you just a few days old or were you just born?

What were you thinking on that cold dark wet morn?

As in the mudpuddle you lay on the road before light

Abandoned and shivering with cold and with fright.

Had your mother, escaped from wolves or from traffic

Were you to weak to follow? You must have felt panic.

Then there were lights of a car, would this be the end?

No the car has stopped short, could this be a friend?

Human hands raised you up, but to stand you're too weak.

Two arms cradled you softly, if you could only speak.

And tell us your feelings, if only you could, when he.

Took you home and dried you off best as he could.

Then he took you to bed and covered you up nice and neat.

To make you get warm, with his comforter and sheet.

How did you feel little deer? secure, safe and warm,

Did you sense you were free from worry and harm?

You went fast asleep with your head on David's chest

For awhile at least, you had a nice rest.

Now the Ministry is looking after you the rest of your life.

I hope you're not too young to survive and you'll be free from strife.

Debra Sears-Tate at the O'Hara Mill July 30th

by Janice Pinke

Debra Tate-Sears along with some of the finest artists and artisans of our country will be presenting their art to you on the wide lawns and shaded groves of the O'Hara Mill museum this July 30th.

Comprised of those artists and artisans mainly from South Hastings, the O'Hara Arts and Crafts Sale will run from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will also feature works by Penny Harrop, Joanne Mann-Smith, Arja Palonen (Studio 737), Willy Schiffrers, Pat Eplett-Hubbard, Robert Huffman and many more.

In a telephone interview with Debra Tate-Sears it was discovered that her paintings are receiving recognition not only here in Canada, but in the United States and England. Her original work sells from $500 to $2000 depending on their size. Debra will have on hand

July 30th originals as well as limited series prints which range in price from $90 to $350.

Wander, feast your senses; rest and sip lemonade.

Most artists and artisans will be demonstrating and sharing their skills with you. Debra says her subject will be the beauty of the O'Hara Mill.

Organizers are hoping to make this an annual event.

For more information call Sarah MacFadyen at 473-2084.

The O'Hara Mill conservation area is located 3 miles north of Madoc on the O'Hara Mill Road off of highway 7.

Ontario Cycling Championships held in Roseneath

The 1989 Ontario Cycling Championships were held July 9, in Roseneath, drawing some 400 competitors and another 2-300 supporters for the province wide race.

This ended a weekend of cycling for the area, with individual and team time trials having been held July 8, in Bannockburn, north of Eldorado.

The July 9 race took competitors from Roseneath north to Hastings, then south toward Warkworth, but turning west on county road 24, back to Roseneath. The course was some 146km. John Hastings, one of the organizers for the event, and manager of Central Ontario Racing, says the event required a lot of stamina and courage that some other sports don't.

Hastings says the event was really terrific, and that he saw some good quality. He says that entrants were only required to pay a nominal fee, and that the organizers paid for the policing and ambulance that helped the race.

Competitors which came from all over the province to enter, competed in age/experience groups. These were Cadets, Juniors, Seniors, Veterans, Masters and the Women's class. Winners for each class were:

Cadets - B. VonRichter
Junior - D. Orchard
Senior - Paul Rygielski
Veterans - V. Narasnek
Masters - Jack Reid
Woman's - Sue Palmer

The 2nd Annual Children's Neuroblastoma Foundation Yardsale needs donations desperately. "We'll take anything that will sell. We've had a few responses, but need more," says Sandra Radford.

Jake Radford said a few people have stopped by to buy, but the sale is not until the July 14th weekend. If this one isn't successful, then they will have another one on the long weekend in September. All the proceeds go towards helping children with this deadly form of cancer.

Last year the Foundation raised $50,000, enough to enable the Lab to be set up and open July 1st, 1989 at McMaster University in Hamilton. The Foundation needs an estimated $100,000 annually to keep it operating.

The Research Lab had a plaque donated to it which reads, "Children's Neuroblastoma Foundation, Opened July 1st, 1989, dedicated in loving memory to: 6 children, one of which is Blake Edward Radford, son of Jake and Sandra Radford, who died in December 1987, after fighting this disease for two years."

"The people in this area were a Godsend to us then. We hope they will come forward to help save the life of other suffering children," said Sandra.

The Yardsale is being advertised on Redden's Cable 4, and flyers are being distributed at the Radford's own expense.

"All the money goes for the children," states Jake, "none of it goes for advertising or other Foundation costs. We (members) handle the expenses personally."

If you would like to help, please call the Radford home anytime at 653-1435. If no answer, then please call Sandra's mother at 653-2922.

Neuroblastoma, What is it?

QUESTIONS:

A couple of questions more frequently asked are:

Q. What about the Canadian Cancer Society?

A. When you donate to the Cancer Society, there are no guarantees your money will be used for a specific disease.

Q. It's only 50 or 60 kids, right?

A. Yes, each year. Think about this: A man gets lost in the northern forests or in the ocean. We spend thousands of dollars to send helicopters, rescue boats etc. to save him. Why not 50 or 60 children?

Q. What is Neuroblastoma?

A. Neuroblastoma is a word that may be unfamiliar to most of you. However to parents and families of 60 children each year in Canada, the word generates fear and uncertainty. Neuroblastoma is a cancer. More specifically, it is a cancer of the nervous system that is unique to children, particularly under the age of four.

Of the cancers associated with childhood, neuroblastoma is second to lymphocytic leukemia in occurrence. The key difference is that leukemia has a high survival rate - in excess of 60%. With Neuroblastoma most of the children die.

Unfortunately, Neuroblastoma has received very little attention, compared to other cancers. In fact there has been little progress in the last 20 years - survival rates have remained extremely low.

Steve McGuire, of Marmora, an aspiring sign painter, was hired by the Crowe Lake Sailing Club to paint their storage trailer, which is located at Booster Park. What a nice way to get a sun tan!

Myrna Ellard of Kenora, Ont., and her Hearing Ear Dog, Tommy. Tommy was trained at Ancaster, Ont. Ellard paid $2,500 for her and today, they cost $3,500.

Now with the July 1st opening of the Lab at McMaster University, this Foundation is the only hope to start research to find a cure for this traumatic disease.

Won't you do your share to ease the pain and suffering of the children? Won't you do your share to save their lives?

Please call Sandra and Jake Radford at 653-1435.

REMINDER

Don't forget the CPA, Quinte Chapter, meeting on July 12th, Wednesday at 1.30 p.m. in the Belleville Police Station, Dundas East. Everyone Welcome!

MOTHER'S POEM

by Sandra Lee Radford

God made your eyes from stars so bright, to shine all day and sleep at night.

He made your nose from a button on His shirt, to smell the flowers and be covered in dirt.

He made your lips from a rose so pink, to speak your mind and to be kissed - I think.

God made you from things from up above, but most of all, He made you from Love!

RECIPES:

Refrigerator Summer Relish

2 cups cooked beets, coarsely shredded and drained,
1/4 cup beet cooking liquid,
1/4 cup cider vinegar
1 cup diced peeled cucumber
3 tbs sugar
1/4 tsp salt and a dash of pepper
Thoroughly mix all ingredients. Cover and store in refrigerator for several hours. Add parsley or dill before serving. Makes 3 1/2 cups.

Cucumber-Onion Relish

3 large cucumbers
1 1/2 tsp salt
1 onion minced
1 cup white vinegar
Peel cucumbers, cut into halves length-wise, and scoop out seeds with teaspoon. Discard seeds. Put cucumbers through food chopper, using coarse blade. Combine with salt. Let drain for 1 hour in colander. Add remaining ingredients. Cover and store in refrigerator. Stir every 2 or 3 days. Makes 3 cups. Keep for several weeks.
Chow! See you next week.

Have you stopped to think or take a close look at the period brick used in our area and in other areas of Ontario?

As one cruises past on the street, it may appear that it is just another brick house or it may be that you find one more appealing than another. I realize that in our fast paced society we often overlook the basics passing before our eyes daily. It may be interesting next time, to walk around and take a closer scrutiny because some really interesting things may be in store for you.

The very colour of old brick is paris due to the firing method used to dry hard fired resulted in those dark brick one sees throughout an otherwise red coloured facade.

Old brick colours resulted primarily from area iron content in the clay used may range from yellow right down through the shades of orange to deep red. If you had the cash to pay out then various combinations is an obvious ascentic variation but what of those subtle things that you really can't lay a finger on but you know a definite difference exists.

Take close look at the pattern of laying. There were very definite accepted patterns and in some cases this was determined by the size of your pocketbook. It seems the flemish bond was considered the elite of the trade in looks and in strength. Of course, it used more brick and I presume consumed more labour to install.

A bit about brick terminology. A stretcher, is a brick laid with the long side to view and a header is laid with the short or narrow end to view. This was not done simply to look pleasing. We are talking about double brick walls and the headers purpose was to tie the inner and outer walls together and the higher the ratio the more strength and rigidity.

In the flemish pattern these headers and stretchers were alternated both horizontally and vertically thus lending great strenght to the wall. In some cases "Putting on the dog" was accomplished by only doing the front of the dwelling and the rest of the house was in less expensive styles.

Some variations such as:
 * common bond—one course of headers for every six of stretchers;
 * garden wall—two stretchers for every one of headers;
 * English bond—a row of headers alternated with a row of headers;
 * running bond with no ties (headers) visible, some were held by metal ties within the mortar.

A rather unique method was the Rowlock Bond. This method utilized the maxium area of the brick laying them on their edge with a header and a stretcher alternating.

As can easily been seen a great many styles, patterns may be created by inter-mixing various colours and brick laying styles. In many cases brick work appeared to be almost comparative to an oil painting artist. Only the imagination and knowledge of the media employed limited the product produced.

Magnificent eye pleasing buildings were created using different patterns into the walls. Circles were incorporated, circular window openings, ledges to accentuate colours making a very marked line. Door and window arches become ever more fancy and the precision here is true work of art. No computers, Cont'd on page 9

A sitting target: Newly installed Norwood and District Lions club President, Bob Corby, let these young artists go to work on him during the Hucklebug Daycare and Nursery School picnic. The youngsters -- Angela Corby (r) and Lori-Beth Martin (l) -- used every imaginable colour to transform Lions President Bob. And if a picture is worth a thousand words then...

Elzevir/Grimsthorpe council meeting

On Monday June 5, 1989 a Public meeting was held in the Township Hall in Actinolite, in regards to zoning amendment by-law No. 89-12 for Richard Cooper. Mary-Ann Burris expressed concerns about the part to be re-zoned to "Environmental Protection" but had no objections to the re-zoning of Coopers property.

Following the Public Meeting, council re-convened in the Council Chambers for the regular meeting, at which Reeve Jack Robinson presided.

An application for a loan under the Ontario Home Renewal Program was approved.

A training course will be held in Hungerford Hall, June 22, Re: Workplace Hazardous Materials Information system.

A resolution from the City of Guelph re: the recycling of telephone directories was received and filed.

Ministry of Tourism & Recreation requested a resolution from the new Council to agree to proceed with the project of a new addition this year as planned, this was agreed upon.

The correspondence was received and filed.

The Clerk presented the completed 1989 budget and was approved by Council.

By-law No. 89-13 was then presented, being a by-law to levy the 1989 mill rates was given three readings, signed and sealed.

By-law No. 89-12 to re-zone part e.3, c2 from "Rural" to "rural residential-exception 2", "Rural Residential Exception 3" and "environmental protection." This was given 3 readings signed and sealed.

specialized equipment; just basic designing tools and expert manual workmanship, thus assisting in creating our present day pride in being Canadians.

The making of brick has progressed from hand mixing to the highly sophisticated computer methods used today. Now here is one for you. At one time and place, oxen were walked through the vats to mix the ingredients. My experience with livestock says eventually this could turn into a messy experience or a three ring circus if the animal decided to turn contrary. Could you imagine, in that mess, trying to persuade one that the wet stuff was not a wallow on a hot day?

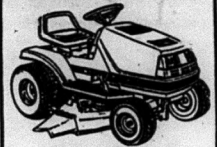

So, next time you look at that old brick wall, step and check out the subtle differences in pattern or laying and colouring. Also the extras, such as the stone quoins on corners (usually very obvious and we have several of these in this area) or the more subtle quoins made of brick.

This has been a very brief article on the use and style of brick, but I am sure if you look closely, certainly individual things will stand out. Here's one for you. A gal from the city inquired of a farmer. Which is proper to say? "A hen is sitting or setting?" The farmer replies: I really don't know Miss, the only thing I wonder about is when I hear her cackling, is she laying or lying?

MEMORIALS

CHAMBERS - In loving memory of Keith, a dear husband, father & grandfather, who passed away July 10, 1982.
 This day is remembered and quiet kept.
 No words are needed, we never forget.
 For deep in our hearts, you will always stay.
 Loved and remembered each and every day.
 Sadly missed & always remembered by wife Eileen & family.

MORRISON - In loving memory of a dear brother, Bruce, who passed away July 13, 1986.
 When on Earth you are no more.
 But in memory you are with us.
 As you always were before.
 Sadly remembered by Marty and Vernon.

RAY - In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Sam Ray, who passed away July 12, 1988.
 Nothing can ever take the love a heart holds dear.
 Fond memories linger every day.
 Rememberance keeps him near.
 Lovingly remembered and deeply missed by wife Dorothy and children, Susan & Jack and Harry.

RAY - In loving memory of a dear grandfather, Sam Ray, who passed away July 12, 1988.
 God took him home, it was His will.
 But in our hearts we love him still.
 His memory is as dear to-day
 As in the hour he passed away.
 We often sit and think of him
 When we are all alone.
 For memory is the only friend.
 That grief can call its own.
 Lovingly remembered and deeply missed by grandchildren Brenda & Bill, Gail & Garry, Jo, and great grandchildren Neil and Scott.

The Intrepid Cottager

by Craig Nicholson
(All rights reserved c. 1989)
Insects are the bane of my existence. Or at least the wife's bane, which she shares gladly. Generally, I find bugs easy to ignore. After all, they don't take up much space, get sick or need petting. They are hard to play with. And they are cheap to have around. But they where need to be fed and that's where they get my attention. Not that they feed much on me, but the wife is prime meat. Her anti-bug antics are a sight to behold. By the time she has 'wrapped up, rubbed down, sprayed around, swatted about, run away, doused, loused and housed, there's no peace to be had.

So out of self preservation I join the fray.

The first thing I learned is that there are more anti-bugging devices on the market than the CIA has spooks. The second is that all of them are much bigger than the pests they are supposed to eliminate. And none are cheap. The result is an unpaid Visa balance and a huge clutter of bug stuff. Bug stuff for a psychological war that is not winnable.

The psychological part is that manufacturer's know about wives and bugs, and that husbands will buy anything to avoid being bugged. Also, there's some small satisfaction in feeling that you are actually DOING something.

The war is like going to battle with a flintlock against high tech weaponry. For some reason the bugs have the tech. Maybe they have the budget because they live so cheap. Or because they can amortize the costs over a hoard of millions. Or because they have collaborated with the manufacturers.

For instance, I am suspicious with all of our genius, research and money that no one has marketed a safe, inexpensive product that with one simple use will eliminate bugs. They seem to be immune. I wonder about the fact that I have to buy a different product for each species of bug. Like movie stars each with their own fragrance. I am compelled to buy a whole new supply of pest stuff each spring regardless of what's left over from last year. And in return, I suspect that the bugs have agreed to stay away from the homes of the manufacturers for the duration.

So I ante up for metal traps which require a tool kit to open and a gooey liquid that sticks everything to everything but ants. Place each "where the ants are" and watch the dogs try to eat them.

For house flies, defined as those that get in-doors, I purchase swatters whose heads always fly off into the salad, dangling strips that I'm always walking into, vapour blocks whose smell makes me sick and spray which fogs up the window panes.

All the other flies, defined as those few that are not lucky enough to have got in that time when the door opened, I squish with my bare hands, inhale or drown in my drink. Horse flies, named by size not according to meal preference, only attack me in the canoe or floating on the raft. I have inflicted more self damage with missed swats than injury to these pests.

Wasps and hornets I leave pretty much alone except for trying to discourage their nests on my property. Smoke, fire and long distance spray bombs each have their place as does the snorkel mask that I wear for back up, always keeping the shortest route to the lake in mind. If one gets in the house, I just leave until it dies of old age.

I spend the summer smelling of Deep Woods Off or Musk Oil or both. Hardly a romantic aroma except to mosquitos. But the wife wears it and so do the dogs and soon we don't even notice each other anymore. Like when everybody eats garlic.

With coils, sinudge pots and bug lights, the place is a real delight to be around. But no more than yours truly the summer I tried not bathing as the ultimate repellent. The wife said it worked for her. The dogs tried to roll in me. The mosquitos stayed away, but I cleaned up when I began to attract flies.

As for the other massed insect hordes hovering about outside, I have capitulated except for the electric bug zapper which can't hold its own but sounds great trying. I still get a kick out of crunching June bugs under foot as long as I'm wearing shoes. The Martins let me for classier digs down the bay and now the dragon flies are my last natural defense.

For unnatural defense I have long sleeve turtle necks and gloves which are great for weight loss in ninety degree weather. Then there's the bus hats that mat the hair and make spitting sloppy. Together this ensemble is cumbersome and not recommended for greeting new neighbours.

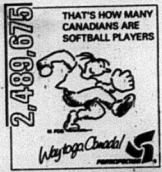

The wife's solution to the bug menace is good screens and staying inside all summer. Who am I to argue with someone who swells to mump proportions at every bite? So last year I expanded with the wife's great outdoors with a screened gazebo attached to the house - a truly bug proof arrangement. After labouring all day to sew, tape, nail, stick, fold and staple all potential bug entrances, I proudly announced that her sanctum was ready. "No bug will ever get inside!" I declared.

She went into the gazebo to admire my handy work and exclaimed: "And if any bugs do get in, honey, this bird will eat them!"

I explained lamely that it came with the gazebo, but the wife likes birds either outside or cooked, so I caught it with my baseball cap and went over all the seems again.

To keep the wife company this summer I am staying in the gazebo and laughing at the frantic entry efforts of the bugs denied their favourite meal. I don't miss being bitten. And for once I smell normal.

The Huskies seem to be sniffing the air more than usual. I think they scent winter coming.

Merchants get two feet

by Janice Pinke

At 8:30 p.m. last Wednesday night (July 12th) a group of merchants met with Madoc council to express their concern regarding the 1954 by-law which prohibits village merchants from utilizing the sidewalks out front of their stores.

The attending merchants (Willard Wasson of Stedman's, Brian Lovegrove of Angelo's, Neil Sulkers of Madoc's Canadian Tire store, Jane Brownson of Brownson Kitchens and Boutique, Peggy and Tony Brathwaite of the Pro Hardware and Ellen Wilson of Wilson's of Madoc) all signed a form requesting the village change the outdated by-law thus, allowing the business community 30 inches of sidewalk space out front of their stores.

A closed meeting by council members after the above mentioned meeting had Madoc village council members rescinding the 1954 by-law.

A new by-law is to be prepared by the village's lawyer allowing the merchants two feet (24 inches) of sidewalk space from their store walls outward. Ground level signage will also be included in the new by-law.

Council is allowing the 24 inch by-law to be put into effect immediately, before it is actually passed, however, council members and the village's part-time by-law enforcement officer Grant Smith will be watching merchants, making sure they comply with the new 24 inch by-law. If they refuse to comply the possibility of the old 1954 by-law being reinstated could become reality.

The $100 fine for merchants abusing the new by-law will remain in place once it is passed at the end of this month.

Hal and Amelia Linden

Amelia Linden was in Madoc with residents John and Sherry Sanders of St. Lawrence St. last week visiting East.

"Barney Miller's" daughter visits Madoc area

Hal Linden alias Barney Miller from the television variety show of the same name has a daughter, and she was here visiting Madoc village residents John and Sherry Sanders last week.

Hal Linden and his daughter Amelia, 28, were working together in Toronto in the production of Shenandoah; while Hal Linden starred in the production, Amelia worked as the assistant stage manager.

John Sanders of Madoc was working on the musical production as a stage hand and his counterpart Giles Goulding met up with Amelia and they hit it off, thus their visit to Madoc.

Giles and Amelia arrived in Madoc last Monday (July 10th) and left last Thursday morning. Amelia had never seen any of the Canadian countryside and John and Sherry offered Amelia and Giles the opportunity to do just that.

You might have seen her as Sherry and Amelia did their shopping in Madoc. The rest of the time was spent doing just that - resting, and swimming and enjoying the summer temperatures according to Sherry.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The three proposed Hungerford land fill sites all have shallow soil, rock face plateaus that contain many springs, that drain, both west and south, into small streams, tributaries and swamps that flow into Parks Creek, into Derooshee Lake and eventually into the Moira River. The only substantial clay layers are located at the base of the swamps and surrounding lowlands. Building sites and wells are located at the base of these plateaus. Therefore Well Cores, used as the indicator for choosing the appropriate sites, would reflect a higher incident of clay than the proposed land-fill sites.

After the meeting at the Township Hall on June 20, 1989, it seemed obvious that local residents affected with these three sites would be willing to commission their own geological study to confirm these observations and the recommendations of Sam Loghrin, who is an engineer and local farmer of most of these lands, that have been submitted to the Site Selection Committee.

The speed at which this is being "railroaded" through without advance notice is obvious to all impacted. Appropriate investigation and action concerning "this process" is also being considered. Some of the impacted residents came to that June 20th meeting knowing and understanding very little. Not knowing Hungerford had even entered the Waste Management Master Plan, they had never paid much attention to the selection process. Maps of the areas being discussed were not made available. I had photocopied maps which turned out to be the only reference the community had.

A meeting to allow the impacted residents to discuss process with the Consultants and Selection Committee first would have been fair. A meeting informing us we had 14 hours or less to respond is, railroaded.

Especially considering that the impacted residents in Hungerford have not one, not two but three of the seven sites to consider.

The knowledge of this experience should make one point clear, North Americans need to understand that even if they choose to live without city amenities they cannot escape pollutants, land fill sites for urban garbage and the ensuing leachates. It does not matter how much land you own. There is always expropriation. It does not matter if you live next to Crown Land or Ministry of the Environment land. A land fill site can be located there. It does not matter if the Moira Conservation Authority has jurisdiction over your land. Environmentally protected land does not affect the siting of household and light industrial garbage dump. As in our case it does not matter whether that Environmentally Protected area has been ranked as "provincially significant natural heritage lands" appropriate for Municipal tax rebates. We are "impacted residents" within a kilometre of the proposed land fill sites for the garbage of Belleville, Trenton and lands between and beyond.

These sites are geologically incorrect. The process of notifying the impacted residents is legally questionable.

I encourage everyone involved to take detailed notes on when they were informed, what exactly they were told and how long they were given to respond and that will help in any legal action that may take place. I would also advise all official and unofficial "impacted residents" to have their property professionally assessed for its market value for future compensation.

Looking for a few good books

Madoc's and Marmora's Dr.
Dosaj is looking for donations of books which will be read by boys ages 3 to 18 years in the doctor's homeland of Africa.
On a recent trip to Kenya,
Africa, the Dosaj family visited the doctor's father who teaches at a school for orphan
boys called "Starehe Boys Centre". The school feeds the houses and teaches the stu-

dated, 1200 boys currently living there. The centre relies on donations. Dr. Dosaj questioned the school's master what he could do here from Canada and Master Griffin, an Englishman, replied "reading materials". Dr. Dosaj says he will pick them up from you or you can drop off the books at either his office in Madoc, or Marmora.

Possibilities endless in Whylock property masterplan

by Janice Pinke

At 7 p.m. last Wednesday evening (July 12th) sixteen people along with Madoc's Reeve Tom Deline, Deputy-Reeve Lynda Matchett and Councillors Mary Pigden and Gord Crawford gathered to amass recreational ideas for the Whylock property.

Added to the list of possibilities were facilities which would require little or no upkeep such as a volleyball court and an exercise area housing such items as monkey bars for chin ups or sit ups, etc.

Madoc council is looking to develop a masterplan for the MRCA which would preferably cover the next ten to fifteen years. They are also looking at the possibility of purchasing the train station on the Whylock property.

A group of lawn bowlers were on hand for the meeting, ensuring their part in the Whylock masterplan.

As it stands now Madoc council would like all input (i.e. sizes, parking plans) submitted by August 1st. Any input, from anybody!

By the end of August council would like to have drafted a list of costs which would include labour and material. These costs have to be submitted by you to enable Madoc Village to apply for a grant from the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation.

The list of possibilities for the Whylock property to date include:

- * a central facility housing washrooms, showers and a canteen, a pool, soccer facilities, picnic areas, walking and cycling paths (motorized vehicles will be prohibited), a playground and anything else you can come up with.

Contact the village offices at 473-5211/5212 for any info you might require and read this paper for announcements of future meetings regarding the Whylock property.

COUNTY OF HASTINGS
GYPSY MOTH SPRAYING PROGRAM

Applications are now available to landowners who wish to participate in the 1990 Gypsy Moth Spray Program. This is a voluntary program and landowners must apply to be included.

Because of a 75% subsidy from the Ministry of Natural Resources, the cost to the landowner is $5.00 per acre.

Applications should be completed and returned as soon as possible so that spray blocks can be made up and mapped. The deadline is January 31, 1990.

For further information and applications contact your local municipal office or the undersigned.

Tudor and Cashel Council Minutes

The meeting of July 4, 1989 opened with the Reeve and all Council members present.

Glenn Cooney moved and Danny Phillips seconded to receive the correspondence from the previous meeting.

Council was attended by Mr. Ron Rampton, and Mrs. Rampton representing the Steenburg Lake Cottagers Association. They voiced the concerns of the Cottagers regarding the water quality of the lake and the dangers of overcrowding on and around the lake. They requested that Council attempt to control further development until complete studies were done with respect to water seepage etc. Council will respond at a later date, and thanked the cottagers for their concerns.

A motion by John Glenn and Glenn Cooney, to permit Dungannon Township to act on behalf of Tudor and Cashel with respect to surface treatment contract for part of Weslemkoon Lake road from lot 22 Conc. 4 of Cashel Township to lot 20 conc. 6.

Wanda Donaldson moved and Danny Phillips seconded to approve payment of vouchers 6 for roads and General Government.

A motion was made by Wanda Donaldson and John Glenn to approve severances B603 and B604 for Mr. Tom Feddemma R; lot 20 conc. 4 Tudor Township.

John Glenn moved and

Glenn Cooney seconded to reply to the Township of Kalarad, Anglesea and Effingham regarding the request for use of the Grimsthorpe dump site; that the site is not capable of handling any further volume of garbage, and will soon be filled at the present rate of use.

A motion by John Glenn and Danny Phillips recommended that a letter be sent to Mr. Edward Smithson regarding his horses running loose.

Wanda Donaldson moved and Danny Phillips seconded that it be indicated to Mr. Kelly that it is not Council policy to sell the Road Allowance around lake shores.

The meeting was adjourned, to meet on August the 8th

Crime of the Week

Quinte Crime Stoppers are asking for your assistance in solving this crime.

Belleville City Police report that entry was gained to a residence by way of a rear porch which gave thieves direct access to the house. The rooms were ransacked and a large amount of older currency between $5 and $100 bills in both Canadian and American funds were stolen.

Silver dollars, 50 cent pieces and quarters were also stolen. Ladies and mens jewellery and watches did not escape the eyes of the thieves. It may be of interest to note that all currency was in mint condition.

Police feel that the money may already have been disposed of but the war medals are quite possibly still in the area and could possibly be dealt at either pawn shops or flea markets.

Police describe the medals as being four German World War II medals, described as being a submarine medal, a blockade runner medal, a knights cross with crossed swords and an oak leaf, and an auxiliary medal.

The medals would be more of a historic and sentimental value to the rightful owner rather than to person who has somehow obtained them. If you have any information concerning the persons responsible for this crime or if you can assistance police in the recovery of them, then Crime Stoppers would like to hear from you. A complete list of the stolen articles is presently a file at the Crime Stoppers Office.

Quinte Crime Stoppers

Quinte Crime Stoppers are asking for your assistance in helping to solve a robbery with violence that occurred on Sidney St., Belleville, late in the evening of Monday, Dec. 19, 1988.

The victim, a male, 33 years of age, was walking on Sidney St. near the storage barns to the north of the Ben Blecker building, when he was "jumped" by three male subjects.

Two of the males held the victim's arms while the third suspect repeatedly kicked the victim in the face, ribs and groin area. After rendering the victim unconscious, the thieves stole the victim's brown leather wallet which contained $42 and personal papers and then fled the scene.

The victim regained consciousness after a short time and made his way home and the police were called to investigate.

The description of the attackers is as follows: number 1 suspect: the robber who physically beat the victim is a white male, 30 to 35 years of age, blond shoulder length hair, stocky build, scruffy chin hair and wearing a blue coat. The other two suspects are described as being approximately 6 feet tall with shoulder length dark-colored hair and being between 20 and 25 years of age.

If you have any information which would assist police in their investigation of this violent occurrence, Crime Stoppers would like to talk to you.

Crime Stoppers offers a CASH Reward up to $1000 for information leading to an arrest in this crime or any other unsolved case. If you have any information, call Crime Stoppers at 969-8477 or 1-800-267-4357. Callers will not be required to reveal their identity nor testify in court.

Watch for a re-enactment of the "Crime of the Month" on Cable 4 TV, Belleville, at the following times: Mon. 8:30 p.m./ Tues. 7:30 p.m./ Wed. 8 p.m./ Thurs. 8 p.m. and Sun. 5:30 p.m.

To make a tax deductible donation, write to: Crime Stoppers Quinte Inc., P.O. Box 726, Belleville, Ont. K8N 5B5.

Tip For The Week
Cantaloupes are very high in Vitamin A, C, and potassium. Their rinds have thick-raised netting and you know they're ripe when the skin under the netting is yellowish. Refrigerate ripe cantaloupes, and wrap cut melons in plastic to prevent their aroma from penetrating other foods.

We Really Care

Frontier Friday

by Sarah MacFadyen

"Looking at my watch I was panicked. Thoughts scattered around my mind like ants whose hill had been trampled. Is everything set up right? Is it going to be any fun? Are the kids going to hate me? Or are there even going to be any kids."

After weeks of planning for my first Frontier Friday, I was overwhelmed by doubts. It had seemed a sure success but when the time came would it be a flop and would I be the proud organizer of the disaster?

As the hands on my watch ticked closer to the hour I had already accepted my failure. Taking a break from wallowing in my self pity, I looked up and low and behold in the distance I could see three tiny figures coming up and over the hill and behind them came many more.

"Ah children. What a relief." Yet failure was not yet pushed from my mind. Now I had to occupy and entertain these children for TWO WHOLE HOURS. Well, I decided to give it my best shot.

As the day passed and our Olympic Medalists had been presented with their beautiful construction paper awards; I had begun to feel at ease with these once feared children who were going to prove me incompetent. I'd even gotten to know them each by name. When three o'clock rolled around I was actually sorry the day was over. But watching the kids run to their parents saying "We're making candles next week," with their cute little voices full of excitement, I knew my first day hadn't been a failure after all.

For more information about our children's program please contact the O'Hara Mill Museum at 473-2084

Safe or out? Norwood Junior fastball catcher Ken Hamblin stretches to make a tag on a Springbrook player as he charges to homeplate during a game played in the Marmora won by the Marmora IGA team who defeated Marmora Fuels (after a coin toss!).

Storing hay safely

When hay containing too much moisture is put into a mow it can ferment and generate a large amount of heat. Occasionally this results in spontaneous combustion and fire about a month to six weeks after storing.

The best way to avoid this type of misfortune is to make sure that stored hay is dried to 20 per cent moisture. This is considered the safe storage level.

Warning signs

Warning signs of heating are a strong burning odour, hat that feels hot to the touch and visible vapour.

If any of these symptoms are present, hot spots may be located by probing the hay with a steel rod. A pipe can then drive into the hay and a thermometer lowered down. If the temperature is 160 degrees Fahrenheit the hay should be checked thoroughly.

If the temperature approaches 180 degrees Fahrenheit there is a very real risk of fire and it would be wise to notify the fire department.

Avoid walking on heating hay as it is possible that there are fire pockets beneath the surface.

John Calnan of R.R. 5, Campbellford was the winner of the feature race at the new stock car races being held at Trudeau Park. By winning John copped the Doug Hunter Ford trophy, symbolic of a first place finish. The other top finishers were: 2nd was Brian Down of Trenton who took the Lake Breeze Resort trophy, 3rd went to Mike Hardy of Trenton who earned the Tweed Motor Car Sales trophy and 4th place was taken by Mike Raabe of Napanee with that trophy being donated by Steve's Autobody of Tweed. Spectators are expected to pay $6 per head while drivers and pit crew members pay $10 each. The races are a 100% pay back.

Pike Invasion

Lindsay - An invasion of northern pike poses a serious threat to the existing muskellunge, walleye and bass fisheries in the Kawartha Lakes, Lois Deacon, a Kawartha Lakes Fisheries Assessment Biologist, warns.

Northern pike have recently become established in Canal Lake and are now only one lake away from Balsam and a downstream expansion to the rest of the Kawartha Lakes, she said.

Northern pike spawn in early spring and young-of-the-year pike feed on young fish of other species, Ms Deacon explained. Muskellunge often spawn in the same areas as northern pike but a few weeks later and hatching musky fry are ready prey for older pike fry.

Northern pike have a two to three generation time - shorter than the four to six years required for muskellunge to reach maturity. Northern pike of all ages are voracious feeders and will feed on the forage fishes currently available to muskellunge, walleye and bass.

Northern pike probably reached Canal Lake by moving through the canal system from Lake Simcoe, she said.

"It is possible, however, that anglers released live pike caught in other waters into Canal Lake," she added.

Anglers should be aware that transferring live northern pike through the liftlocks at Kirkfield is prohibited, Ms Deacon said. The liftlocks are the last remaining upstream barrier to the expansion of pike in the Kawartha Lakes.

She said the MNR is investigating several means of preventing the further spread of northern pike, including acoustic barriers at Kirkfield, and a program to reduce the number of pike in Canal Lake.

Northern pike may be distinguished from muskellunge by the following characteristics:

Northern pike - pattern of light spots on a dark ground coat; cheek fully scaled; upper half of operculum only scaled; underside of lower jaw pierced with five pores on each side.

Muskellunge - pattern of dark markings on a lighter background; cheek and operculum scaled only on upper half; underside of lower jaw pierced with six to nine pores on each side.

The province has incentive grants of up to $3,500 to taxi companies interested in buying the specially equipped accessible vehicles, worth $30,000.

Accessible cabs were first introduced into Canada by a Vancouver Taxi which put a few checker cabs on the road with elderly and disabled passengers in mind. The doors were widened and the roofs raised to accommodate wheelchairs. There were no government grants then, but business is booming from the increased fares generated by these taxis.

Brian Oulette, who runs three accessible taxi cabs in Sault Ste. Marie, says, "They're a godsend, they've exceeded all expectations." He thought the new cabs would give him a 20 per cent increase in business, but they've increased his revenue by more than 50 per cent.

Oulette's initial idea was to accommodate individual wheelchair passengers, but his business has increased through contracts with the March of Dimes, Rotary Clubs and the Board of Education.

Through provincial assistance, wheelchair cabs have been introduced in a number of Ontario communities and an accessible limousine service operates at Pearson International Airport in Toronto.

PORTABLE PARKING PERMITS REPLACE LICENCE PLATES

Disabled persons have responded favorably to the move to portable parking permits to replace current special licence plates issued by the Ministry of Transportation.

The change is a result of consultation with the disabled community, the Minister Responsible for Disabled Persons, Senior Citizens' Affairs, the Solicitor General and the Association of Municipalities of Ontario.

Remo Mancini, Minister Responsible for Disabled Persons, consulted organizations of disabled persons and met and spoke to the Association of Municipalities of Ontario.

The permit will travel with the disabled person no matter what vehicle that person or the disabled person's driver is using.

The card is to be displayed on the dashboard or sun visor in the car. It replaces the disabled licence plate now issued by the Ministry of Transportation as well as permits issued by municipalities.

Experience has shown that the plate is not practical for disabled persons who must use more than one car. There have been abuses of the disabled symbol licence program by drivers who are not disabled.

Complementary amendments to the Ontario Municipal Act will give the permit status under that statute. A model by-law prepared by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs will encourage municipalities to provide consistency and uniformity in parking for disabled persons across Ontario. Municipalities will still be able to tailor their own disabled parking programs to fit local conditions.

MAINSTREAM ADVENTURES

The Ontario March of Dimes Camping and Recreation Department will be introducing out-door recreation opportunities for adults with physical disabilities through Mainstream Adventures, beginning in August, 1989. These opportunities could include sailing expeditions, kayak and canoeing trips, hiking, dog-sledding, skiing, sledding and much more!

The primary focus of Mainstream Adventures is to integrate disabled and abled-bodied adults in established out-door educational programs.

If you are interested in becoming involved in a Mainstream Adventure Program and would like to be put on the mailing list, please contact:

Cathy Smart, Co-ordinator of Camping and Recreation, Ontario March of Dimes, Provincial Office, 60 Overlea Blvd., Toronto, Ont M4H 1B6 Tel (416) 425-0501

Lois K sent me this unusual treat, for those who have green tomatoes coming out of their ears. It is similar to a tart green apple pie, that can be served warm with cheddar cheese, whipped cream or a scoop of ice cream.

Green Tomato Pie
Core and slice 4 cups green tomatoes

Combine:
1/2 cup white sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup corn syrup
1/2 tsp salt
2 lbs butter
2 lbs lemon juice
1 tsp grated lemon rind
4 lbs cornstarch
1-1/2 tsp cinnamon; 1/2 tsp nutmeg; 1/2 tsp allspice

Bring to boil, line a 9 inch pie plate with pastry, and fill with the sliced tomatoes. Pour the cooked mixture over them, and add the top crust. Crimp edges and cut slits in the top. Bake 375 on the bottom oven rack until the top is golden (about 45 min.)

Bill 8, a Bill highly touted by our provincial politicians to create a unified and tolerant French/English society. I think, in reality it has created more animosity toward the Francophones than previously existed in this province.

Progress is not attained through arbitrary legislation against the will of the population unless you wish to become a dictatorship.

We, as Ontarians, have always been tolerant and understanding of our French neighbours, as we have of the many other ethnic groups in our province. Interpreters have been provided where necessary and discrimination has not been a high priority item. Human nature dictates that some individuals do have personal prejudices, unfortunately those looking for cases to cite, use these examples!

What of the fate of Francophones in Quebec? We hear of English speaking persons having acts of vandalism committed against their properties. We hear tell of fires the origin has been laid on doorstep of radicals. In our words, the rights that being granted to the French Ontario, are exactly

REAL ESTATE

Managing your money

by Harry L. Mardon

An alert New Brunswick reader of this column has noted that a recent item dealing with survivor benefits from the Canada Pension Plan had some out-dated information.

At one time there was one benefits rule for widows of a deceased CPP contributor and a different benefits rule for widowers. The policy treated women more favorably than men, when it came to qualifying for a monthly survivor pension.

Apparently the federal government recognized this treatment was discriminatory and revised the rules for CPP survivor pensions.

Under the Canada Pension Plan (or Quebec Pension Plan if you reside in that province), there are three types of survivor benefits:

1) Orphans' benefits, which are flat-rate monthly payments provided for the dependent child or children of deceased CPP contributors.

2) Surviving spouse's pension, payable monthly to the surviving spouse of a deceased CPP contributor.

3) Death benefit, which is a lump-sum payment to or on behalf of the estate of the deceased CPP contributor.

According to Health and Welfare Canada, your surviving spouse can be either your legal or your common-law spouse. Your common-law spouse must have been living with you "in a conjugal relationship" for at least the year before your death, in order to qualify. A separated legal spouse will be eligible except where an eligible common-law spouse applies for the benefit.

Your child or children also is classed as a survivor under the CPP provided your child is a natural child, a child whom you have legally adopted or in fact, a child who is in your custody or control. To qualify for survivor benefits, the child must be under age 18, or age 18 to 25 and in full time attendance at school or university.

For your survivors to be eligible for a monthly CPP pension, you must have made contributions in at least three years. If your contributory period is more than nine years, you must have contributed in the lesser of one-third of the calendar years in your contributory period or in 10 calendar years.

Now to a key question: How much will my surviving spouse receive?

The amount depends on a number of factors. First of all, it is related to the amount of your retirement pension. That pension is based on your pensionable earnings under the Canada Pension Plan. The maximum retirement pension payable to a CPP contributor at age 65 is about 25 per cent of the average wage.

If your surviving spouse is under age 65 or over, the surviving benefit will be equal at 60 per cent of your retirement pension, according to a brochure issued by Health and Welfare Canada.

If your surviving spouse is age 45 to 64 inclusive at the time of your death, the benefit will be a flat-rate portion plus 37.5 per cent of your retirement benefit. The same benefit would be paid if your surviving spouse were under age 45 and disabled, or under age 45 and rearing a dependent child.

If your surviving spouse is under age 45, is not disabled and has no dependent children, the benefit will be reduced by 1/120th for each month he or she is under 45 at the time of your death.

Finally, if the surviving spouse is under age 35, is not disabled and has no dependent children and does not subsequently become disabled, he or she will not be entitled to a survivor benefit until reaching age 65.

The amount of the lump-sum death benefit is the lesser of six times your monthly CPP retirement pension or 10 per cent of the year's maximum pensionable earnings for the year the death occurs.

The orphan's benefit is a flat-rate monthly pension. However, a child may receive two flat-rate benefits if both parents were CPP contributors and are either deceased or disabled and if all conditions or eligibility are met concerning both benefits.

WOODS, WATER AND WILDLIFE

by Marion Streibig

Normally we don't think of the centre of a busy city as an ideal setting for wildlife. But there are some species which have adapted remarkably to city conditions.

Every May, from the window of my downtown apartment, I watch and listen for the return of the Chimney Swift. Once they return, I listen morning and evening for their feverish chattering high overhead, as they hawk for insects. In towns and cities, the Chimney Swift has taken advantage of man-made columns, like chimneys and airshafts for nesting and roosting, to replace its traditional nesting place in hollow trees.

Chimney Swifts are creatures of the air; during the day they literally never touch the ground. In the spring, when they return with the swallows, they are easy to pick out from the high above. They have stubby little bodies and long, narrow wings which appear to beat alternately, rather than together. But they are energetic and acrobatic flyers, gliding, turning and then wings beating suddenly accelerating. Their nests are little shelves attached to the rough edges of the chimney lining. Even the chicks, which are born naked and blind, are soon able to cling fast to the nest or to rough edges of the brick.

When the Chimney Swifts are winding down from a day of insect catching on the wing, other intrepid high flyers begin their rapid erratic flight in search of insects. On a summer night in the city, there is nothing quite like the explosive plunk of the Nighthawk's dive, or the high-pitched "peent, peent" of its call. This relative of the Whip-poor-will gathers, in its widely gaping mouth, all sorts of insects as it flies.

Like the Chimney Swift, the Nighthawk has made use of man's reordering of the world. Since it is a ground nester which makes no real nest, the Nighthawk has found suitable nesting areas on the numerous flat, gravelled roofs we have provided. Here both the female and the eggs bled so well that they are virtually invisible.

The Intrepid Cottager

By Craig Nicholson
(c. 1989 All Rights Reserved)

It took three years of trekking between city and lake, but being an astute observer I finally noticed that I was surrounded by wilderness. Certainly the nocturnal visits of raccoons and skunks had been no clue — these are my regular city visitors. But wolf howls and sighting a black bear on our road gave me pause to consider that not all of our neighbors had two legs. The wife, considering the possibility of only one leg, decided to stop her nightly walks.

It is so easy to become insular at the cottage, especially if it's on an island. I spend the weekend on my own property or out on the lake buzzing about. The only thought I gave to nature was when it crossed to my side of the road, and then only to resent the intrusion.

It had never occurred to me to cross to the other side of the road myself until I walked into a dead fox hanging in a neighbor's shed last fall. I stumbled to one side, tripped over several beaver carcasses strewn about the floor, skidded on something slippery and blundered into a tangle of metal that promptly seemed to seize my foot. To my chagrin and relief, none of the traps were set, so I shook loose and weaved my way to the back room where my neighbor sat with a knife, a hunk of raw meat and a pelt. With typical insight I knew he was either a taxidermist or a trapper or a very strange eater.

Since he had the knife, I was relieved to learn that he trapped to supplement his income. Now the most I knew about trapping was Jeremiah Johnson, Greenpeace and Paul Magdar Furs. I figured you just crossed the road, threw out a couple of traps and sold the catch for big bucks, so I asked to go along.

We climbed into a stinky contraption called a "Argo" — a fiberglass frame over six balloon tires controlled by two handles that cause turns by braking one side or the other. This also steers the vehicle. The stink turned out to be the load of raw and rotting carcasses in the back to be used as bait. I wasn't sure I wanted to meet anything that would be attracted to that smell, much less wears it's fur. The odor also explained why the trapper didn't think I'd need to pack a lunch — I could just swallow breakfast again.

We cannoned off into the impassable wilderness onto a "road" cut Argo wide. If this qualified as even a trail, the 401 is the yellow brick road. This was my first inkling of the workload involved in trapping. The summer before my friend had chainsawed his way through, moving trees and rocks by hand to gain Fall access. If it had been me, the trail would have been the width of one man in frantic flight from the insect hordes.

The amazing Argo carried us over, under, around and through terrain where no Indian had ever been. I know because I didn't see any. All I could see was trees surrounded by undergrowth, rock and swamp. At every turn more of the same. They all began to look alike immediately — they were probably just lost cottagers like me.

The trapper showed me where deer ate and rubbed antlers. When we left the Argo to walk to a trap line or beaver pond, he would lead and I'd hear he say: "Deer. Wolf. Fox. Deer. Moose."

Finally I asked: "Why do you keep calling out animal names?"

"To let you know what's been here," he replied. I asked how he knew. "Well, there's tracks and there's droppings. For instance, that's deer dung you're standing in now." As I wiped off my boots, I couldn't help but wonder where he'd learned to identify droppings. Was there a course or did he just sit around in the woods watching animals defecate?

He took off again carrying a mess of heavy traps and several pieces of bait and I scrambled to keep him in sight. I've never seen anyone so fast in the woods. Of course I'd never been in the woods before, but this man must use steroids. He gave whole new meaning to the words "speed trap." I sweated buckets and swatted bugs, branches, burrs and brambles.

The down side of trapping for me was the catching. Not because of any perceived cruelty — the kills appeared quick and painless — but because I had to lug the bodies back to the Argo, three or four 20 to 40 pounders at a time. Which made me feel very strong until he passed me carrying twice as much.

As we checked the trap lines I learned that each trapper is licensed both for a specific area and for a specific number and kind of pelts. All pelts must be checked against what the license permits and stamped before they can be sold.

The pelts are shipped to North Bay where one of the largest fur auctions in the world happens several times each season with buyers flying in from the fur capitals of the globe. Because prices are set by supply and demand at this auction, the trapper never knows until the first sale whether his catch is going to be worth $200 or 2 cents. That's speculation for you!

Game wardens know all the trappers and frequently patrol the trap lines. All participants seem to be as interested in conservation and protecting the environment as they are in harvesting the excess to help keep nature in balance.

The trapper has to know his terrain intimately, estimate its yield in advance each year and most important, be aware of game trails, fox runs, where the beaver swim and where the wolves pass through. Without this fine tuned woods lore and instinct, no animal would ever be caught.

After a day in the forest, I couldn't believe the amount of sheer physical energy required. Or the degree of sheer physical exhaustion that followed. And I didn't even have a pile of wood to show for it. It was brutally hard work for modest and uncertain reward.

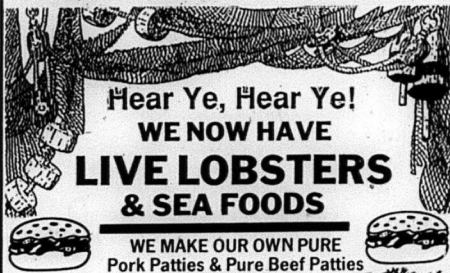

My reward was plain survival. And back at the shed, the work wasn't done, although I certainly was. And I do daily heavy duty work outs! If I'd have been a pioneer, the only settlement would have been my will.

The Argo had to be checked, traps repaired, the animals skinned and the pelts stretched to dry. I had to be carried home. Where the wife took one whiff and threw me in the lake before she'd let me in. The dogs took one whiff and wouldn't let me out. I sent my clothes to Tide with a note challenging them to get out THAT dirt and grime.

As I collapsed into bed with a new appreciation of the high cost of furs, I promised myself to view each new intruder from across the road with greater compassion in the seconds before I chased it off my property.

Harry S. Laforme is appointed new Commissioner of the Indian Commission of Ontario

OTTAWA ... Pierre H. Cadieux, Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development and Ian Scott, Attorney General of Ontario and Minister Responsible for Native Affairs, today announced the appointment of Harry S. Laforme as Commissioner of the Indian Commission of Ontario (ICO).

The Indian Commission of Ontario was established in 1978 to assist the governments of Canada, Ontario and the First Nations of Ontario to identify, clarify, negotiate and resolve issues of mutual concern.

Under the direction of a tripartite council consisting of the federal Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development, the provincial minister Responsible for Native Affairs and representation from the Chiefs of Ontario, the Indian Commission of Ontario convenes negotiation meetings on a wide range of issues including Indian land claims, policing on reserves, hunting and fishing rights and social services.

The Commissioner is appointed under concurrent federal and provincial orders-in-council and by resolution of the Executive Council of the Chiefs of Ontario.

In announcing Mr. LaForme's appointment, Pierre H. Cadieux stated that "Over the years, the Indian Commission of Ontario has played an important role in securing progress on Indian issues in the province and in resolving issues where there is both federal and provincial involvement."

Mr. Scott, Minister Responsible for Indian Affairs noted that, "the government in Ontario has made a commitment to improve its relationship with Indian people in this province. In his position as Indian Commissioner, Mr. LaForme will lend his experience and background to the many issues facing Indian people and will play a key role in facilitating the tripartite discussions."

On behalf of the Anishinabek

(Union of Ontario Indians), Grand Council Chief Joe Mishokomon stated: "As a newly appointed Commissioner, Harry LaForme brings to the tripartite process invaluable experience, knowledge and an understanding of the issues before us. I am confident that his ability will assist the parties in the resolution of these complex and outstanding issues."

Mr. LaForme was called to the Ontario Bar in 1979. His law experience includes special emphasis on Indian treaty rights, Charter issues and constitutional division of powers. In accepting the appointment, Mr. LaForme stated that, "the Indian Commission is a vehicle for the resolution of Indian issues which is unique in Canada. I am very pleased to offer my assistance to this process and look forward to working with the parties."

Mr. LaForme, a member of the Mississaugas of the New Credit Indian Band of Southern Ontario, was employed with the Commission as policy advisor during Justice E.P. Hartt's term as the first Commissioner of ICO.

Do you need a computer

When is it time to ask if a computer could benefit your operations? Right now. Dollar for dollar, pound for pound, there are very few tools that hold such potential to significantly increase your productivity - your output per hour of work - at such a low cost.

And as David Hassen, President of Hassen Steel Fabricators in London discovered, the choice of whether or not to automate may not even be yours to make.

The company, which fabricates auto parts, used to receive its weekly orders from General Motors (GM) by mail. In reply, it would send a telex to GM indicating the contents of the shipments.

"That's all gone the way of the carrier pigeon," says Hassen. "About four years ago, GM advised each of its several hundreds of suppliers that all order information was soon going to be sent out by computer modem only. In order to stay in business, we had to get a computer too. It was a simple case of automate or evaporate."

Despite all of that, computing may not make sense for your particular operation. You must clearly understand what you would like to do with a computer and make an informed, intelligent purchase decision.

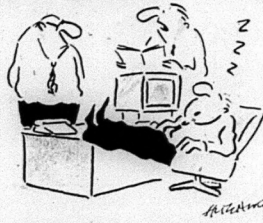

"Don't believe anyone who tells you that the computer is a universal cure-all," advises Bill Harris, marketing manager at Digital Equipment of Canada Ltd. "It's not. If you automate a paper-based business operation that is a mess now, the result will be an automated mess. What computers do very well is gather, store, access and process information far better than any paper-based approach. That allows you to make better informed, faster decisions."

For instance, it might take your bookkeeper anywhere from a half hour to a day to gather information from a manual posting system. A computer-based system could yield the same information in less than 1/100 of the time. More importantly, the bookkeeper or accountant can analyze those figures and find out how future situations might look if certain changes think and use our imaginations. That tends to make for a happier work force - a benefit that shouldn't be overlooked.

All of that is good news. But getting into computing isn't painless. It represents change. To let the computer do its job, you have to re-examine the way in which you now manage your daily operations and re-organize some of those tasks. That can be time-consuming and difficult in the short term, but don't let it scare you. It's a tremendous opportunity to lay good groundwork for genuine productivity growth. Your goal should be to gain better control over your own information and become more responsive to the needs of those who count on the bottom line - your customers. Our

"It says in the manual, 'Your computer will free up your staff to think and use their imaginations!'" occurred today. Instead of performing a lot of boring and repetitive tasks, the computer frees us to do what we do best - next column will guide you through the process of selecting and purchasing a system that fits your needs.

reverse of what is being done in Quebec. Anglophones in Quebec are being put in a subservient position. Therefore, why should we put them in a controlling role in Ontario.

If this Bill 8 goes through, then anyone in Ontario wishing to hold a government job must be bilingual. The thought that goes through my mind is that if this becomes so, then the opportunity to influence government is multiplied infinitely. Do we want to be influenced or controlled by a group, who beg for one thing on one hand and practice exactly the opposite in their own native province?

It has been written about before, and probably will be many times again, but now is the time to contact your MLA and your local councils to object or we will again be saddled with something I don't think the majority of Ontarians want.

One estimate of the cost to our pocketbook is set at $14 million, plus overruns and additional funding every year to maintain the system.

It is little wonder that Premier Bourassa claims Premier Peterson as one of the great friends of Quebec, when in effect Mr. Peterson is not only condoning the actions of Quebec, but assisting the promotion of these actions against Anglophones.

I think I have made it clear before, that very few generations back, my forefathers spoke only French. But when they came to Ontario they learned to speak English, because that was the language here. Also I have lived in La Belle Province and had only occasional problems with language oriented French people. Tolerance and understanding were predominant and if I had remained longer then I probably would have become totally bilingual.

I personally do not think that Bill 8 is a good thing for either Ontario or the French speaking people in Ontario. Let those who wish to speak French do so; and if not, then they should not be discriminated against in their Own province when it comes to government paid jobs etc.

Again I say, now is the time to express your concerns, not after it has become law and we start to pay the resultant costs.

Life depends largely on perspective. For instance, Mother Flea remarked to Father Flea, Dear I am worried about our offspring. None of them are going to be dogs!

Looking Good!

GRANTING A CHILD'S WISH

The Children's Wish Foundation of Canada is a federally chartered, non-profit organization, whose primary objective is to grant the special wishes of children suffering from a terminal illness.

The foundation operates provincial chapters all across Canada. Wish requests are received by provincial directors, who are responsible for obtaining verification and consent from the child's physician. Great care is taken to ascertain that the request is truly the wish of the child. The wish is then processed by the National Office, where the arrangements are completed.

The only stipulations are that the parents or legal guardians must consent to our involvement, a doctor must sign the medical release and the children must not have reached their 18th birthday at the time the request is received.

As public awareness has increased, so has the number of children requesting our assistance. In many cases the child's time may be limited and we must take immediate action. This requires a constant source of funds. The foundation's sole means of support is through the donations of companies, unions, service groups and the Canadian public. Please lend support to our objective; that we will never be forced to turn away a wish child.
Help us make their dreams come true.

WE WISH TO ACKNOWLEDGE YOUR CONTRIBUTION TO THIS MOST WORTHWILE CAUSE.
THANK YOU.

The annual Hobies Mixed Slow Pitch tournament was held last weekend in Norwood. The action was fast, hot and furious as teams vied for qualifying spots in the Coors/Ontario slow pitch finals.

Trent-Severn Waterway news

Haliburton area lakes averaged 93.8 per cent on July 4. This was two per cent higher than in the wet year of 1986 and 7.5 per cent higher than the 10 year average. It was some 16.5 per cent higher than in 1988.

A moderate draw of stored water has begun, to counter the effects of two dry weeks. Otonabee and upper Trent River discharges are now down to their "dry weather minimums."

Are you getting your fair share

When buying goods that have to be weighed or measured, you want to know that you're getting everything you pay for. Under the Weights and Measures Act you can be reasonably confident you're getting fair measure, whether you're at the gas pump or the local grocery store.

That's because weighing and measuring devices used for trade must meet certain standards of accuracy. Inspectors from Consumer and Corporate Affairs Canada regularly check these devices for accuracy and ensure that merchants are using them properly.

Commodities that are pre-packaged or bought and sold in bulk, and services that are provided on the basis of measure, such as packing and cartage, are also inspected periodically to ensure accurate measurement and pricing.

You can tell that inspectors have done their job by looking for a Weights and Measures sticker on weighing and measuring devices.

But you too can play a part in ensuring that what you buy is properly weighed. Check that the scale registers zero beforehand. If the item is in a container, verify that allowance has been made for the weight of the containers. You do this by weighing the container separately and subtracting it from the total weight.

Don't take measurement procedures for granted. If you're in doubt, ask that your purchase be measured again or weighed in another scale. Speak to the manager or the owner if you remain dissatisfied.

If you're still not convinced you've received fair measurement, contact your nearest office of Consumer and Corporate Affairs Canada, Weights and Measures Division.

WHEN THE MOWING GETS TOUGH.

The tough get.... What comes next is too obvious, but it's true. You'll see what we mean when you see our new 1989 line-up. We're convinced it's our best yet. We think you will be too. Of course all of our products are backed by Yard-Man's exclusive 3 Year limited consumer warranty.

Hearing loss

Those who deal with the stresses incurred by the symptoms of hearing loss in an aging parent or spouse will have an opportunity to broaden their understanding of the disability, and the many frustrations which accompany it, at a mini-conference aimed at adult family members, Saturday May 13.

Coping strategies, understanding the hearing loss, techniques for effective communication and use of technical devices will be the topics of focus at a day-long seminar organized by the Adult Hearing Loss Awareness Team in Belleville.

As the first project of the newly-formed AHAT, the upcoming information session, funded by the Ministry of Community and Social Services, is designed to expose the myths of this frequently misunderstood disability and to provide support and ideas for problem-solving to the adults who live with hearing loss, and the participation and communication problems which accompany it.

Dr. Teena Wax, Chair of the Psychology Services Team of the National Technical Institute for the Deaf in Rochester, N.Y. will deliver the keynote address, "Impact of Hearing Loss... Adjusting to Changes in Self and Family". A specialist in the fields of aging and hearing loss, and deaf herself, Dr. Wax's talk will emphasize the important role each family member plays when just one person in the home develops a hearing loss.

Specialized sound systems, interpreters and visual display of presenter's material will be provided to ensure full understanding by hearing-impaired participants. Professional and other interested persons are welcome to attend the seminar from 10 to 4 p.m. at Loyalist College in Belleville. Fee for the day, which includes lunch and nutrition breaks, is $5.00 per person, $10.00 for families and $3.00 for seniors. To register call Loyalist College, 962-9501 ext 281 by May 8. For more information call the local CHS office.

Foodland Ontario shared cost grant program expanded

Changes to the Foodland Ontario Shared Cost Grant Program will provide greater incentives to a wider range of producer and processor groups and the Agriculture and Food Jack Riddell announced.

Under the changes, the ministry will provide start-up costs which will allow smaller producer and processor groups an opportunity to engage in more substantial promotion and market research activities. Other key activities such as the development of marketing plans, participation in trade shows, and product identification with the Foodland Ontario logo will also be assisted.

"The agriculture and food industry could sell local products even more successfully through more vigorous marketing," the agriculture minister said. "This program helps to foster a better appreciation for the role and importance of marketing techniques."

Currently food, non-food and food service groups spend over $4 million on shared cost projects, $850,000 of which is funded through the program.

The program was introduced in 1977 and provides grants to offset the costs of advertising, promotion, and market research.

New criteria and program guidelines will be forwarded to existing Shared Cost Program participants.

What came first?

The egg?  The duck?

In some key places, Ducks Unlimited Canada and other conservationists have been coming first. For more than 50 years we've been building, improving and managing the wetlands and uplands where ducks can hatch and grow... areas that are essential to hundreds of other living things, including people. We've been in the forefront because we know what really must come first...

Not a house sitting service say OPP

Madoc's OPP detachment has entered into a program where property owners can sign a 'Private Residence Register' which would allow police to enter owners homes in their absence.

Police report a growing number of house parties in Hastings County which get out of control with large numbers of uninvited guests showing up. Police would have the home owners consent to have the OPP enter their home to investigate infractions of the Liquor Licence Act, Narcotic Control Act and the Criminal Code.

The consent form notes your absent dates, location and telephone numbers where you can be reached and a local resident holding a key to your property in your absence.

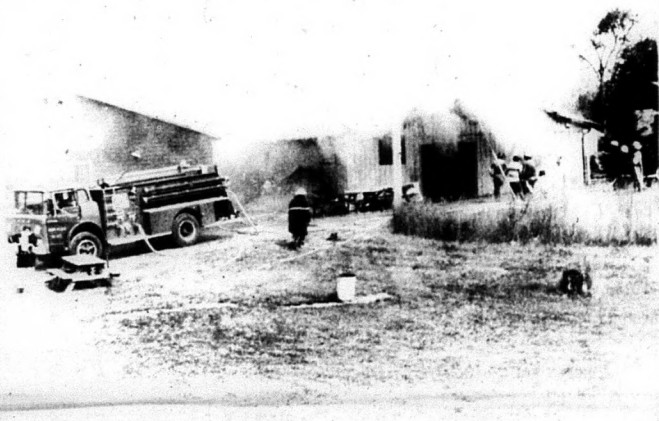

The 'authorization' paragraph on the consent form reads "I hereby authorize the Ontario Provincial Police to enter upon and enter into my residence in order to investigate alleged violations of the Liquor Licence Act, Narcotic Control Act and Criminal Code of Canada, irrespective of any refusal to allow entry by any occupant of the premises".

Home owners are required to go to Madoc's OPP detachment to complete the consent form.

A 'note' appearing at the bottom of the register states that "this form is not intended to be a request for property checks nor are police going to provide a house sitting service. The intent of this form is to provide police with information as to your whereabouts and an adult we can contact in case of an occurrence at your residence".

Cottagers can also utilize this service but must also go to Madoc's OPP detachment to fill out the form.

Rabbitry loses shed!

Madoc - An estimated eighty rabbits lost their lives and their home at the Budd's Rabbitry located on highway 62 near Bannockburn last Friday afternoon at approximately 3 p.m. Madoc Township and Madoc Village firefighters responded to the call and credit the fact that the Moira River was close by otherwise more may have been lost in the blaze. The fire itself is still under investigation; the only building lost in the fire was the main building housing the estimated eighty rabbits.

Debra Tate-Sears at the O'Hara Mill this Sunday

by Janice Pinke

Debra Tate-Sears along with some of the finest artists and artisans of our country will be presenting their art to you on the wide lawns and shaded groves of the O'Hara Mill museum this July 30th.

Comprised of those artists and artisans mainly from South Hastings, the O'Hara Arts and Crafts Sale will run from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will also feature works by Penny Harrop, Joanne Mann-Smith, Arja Palonen (Studio 737), Willy Schiffrers, Pat Eplett-Hubbard, Robert Huffman and many more.

In a telephone interview with Debra Tate-Sears it was discovered that her paintings are receiving recognition not only here in Canada, but in the United States and England. Her original work sells from $500 to $2000 depending on their size. Debra will have on hand

July 30th originals as well as limited series prints which range in price from $90 to $350.

Wander, feast your senses; rest and sip lemonade.

Most artists and artisans will be demonstrating and sharing their skills with you. Debra says her subject will be the beauty of the O'Hara Mill. Organizers are hoping to make this an annual event.

For more information call Sarah MacFadyen at 473-2084.

The O'Hara Mill conservation area is located 3 miles north of Madoc on the O'Hara Mill Road off of highway 7.

Village of Madoc receives first payment of $70,000 grant

The village of Madoc has received $33,777 under Ontario's LifeLines program as first payment for water and sewage works projects, Environment Minister Jim Bradley announced today.

The projects include a water distribution needs study and a sewer rehabilitation needs study.

The money is part of a grant, estimated at $70,890, which is a provincial contribution toward the total cost of the projects, estimated at $84,000. The LifeLines program is designed to rehabilitate municipal water and sewer lines.

ATTENTION GOLFERS!

Letter to the Editor

Begging for Beggs!!!

I am doing some family tree searching and came across the name of your fair town in a family diary. My family member said she was born in Madoc, Ontario, Canada.

My relative's name is Charlotte "Lottie" Jane Beggs. She was born 18 Jul. 1860. She was married in Saline County, Nebraska, to Charles W. Sigman on 25 Feb. 1883. "Lottie," as she preferred to be called, died in Goodland, Sherman County, Kansas on 24, Sept. 1933. It mentioned a brother, Joseph, in her obituary.

If any of your readers have any information about this family of Beggs, I would very much like to make contact with them. Most of my family has passed on, and I have no one to ask about this relative.

I appreciate your putting this article in your paper and will thank you in advance for your kind assistance in this venture.

Here's to Sears

Les Boutilier of RR 3 Madoc picks up a cheque from Sharon owner of 'Sharon's Bouquets'n Gifts' last Saturday which he won through a 'Sears' contest which was entitled 'Win what you purchase'. Les said his wife said they should have purchased more at the time but even still the couple took home a cheque for $210.55. They could've won up to $1000 worth of merchandise according to the entry form and their chances of winning in the Eastern Region, again according to the entry form, was 1 in 12,400.

Madoc Township's Andrea Peters going to Canada Summer Games

by Janice Pinke

Early last week Madoc Township's Andrea Peters discovered that she, along with three other of her Belleville counterparts, had been chosen to represent Ontario as part of a 15 member softball team at the 1989 Canada Summer Games in Saskatoon next month.

Andrea was selected after a two week training camp held at the University of Waterloo the last week of June. She will head back to the University August 15th, where the Ontario team will gather for a three day training camp before flying out to Saskatoon August 19th.

Andrea was one of CHSS's 'Athletes of the Year' for the 1988/89 season and currently holds the positions of pitcher and infielder for the J. F. Enright Insurance Midget Girls Softball team in Belleville. In 1988, this team captured the silver medal at the Canadian Midget Girls Championships in New Brunswick. Opening day of the Canada

Summer Games is Monday, August 21st with the Ontario girls playing two games that day.

Learning the right way.

Karen Wiggins is one of the instructors of the village swimming program which are held annually during the summer months. (above) She teaches the yellow class consisting of those youngsters ages 5 and 6. The July program has started but you can register for the August program through our village offices by dialing 473-5211/5212. The swimming program is open to ages three years and up and up and up!

Win a cord of wood in Queensboro

by Janice Pinke

Sweat, pain and sheer exhaustion are usually the result when this reporter has anything to do with cutting, splitting and stacking wood. However, no wood, no warmth.

George Thompson of Queensborough's Recreation Committee called the Review last week regarding a draw August 31st whereby that wood (the size of a cord) will be cut, split and delivered for you.

Tickets can be purchased throughout Madoc's business community, at the Queensborough Marketplace or here at the Madoc Review offices.

They cost $1 per or 6 for $5. Other prizes include turkeys and hams.

Bob Thompson of Queensborough has generously donated the wood. Proceeds from the draw will go towards the building fund for the Queensborough Community Centre.

The draw will be held during a potluck supper at the Queensborough Community Centre August 31st.

Bonjour!

Five 'twin' students were in Madoc last week as part of the 'SEVEC' exchange program sponsored by the Hastings County Board of Education. They arrived here from Quebec July 17th and will leave July 28th. While here they will be staying at the residence of their 'twin', Claudia Cantin (back row farthest right) was scheduled to stay in Belleville but due to her allergies was invited to stay up here with the Olivers. Martin Charron (centre back row) appeared on the front page of 'The Intelligencer' last Saturday. The

Madoc Township adds bingo games as crowd grows in numbers

by Janice Pinke

An estimated 100 people turned out for Thursday's bingo games at the Madoc Township Rec Hall according to the Township's Linda Danford.

As a result the Township has planned two more bingo extravaganzas for August 3rd and 17th. The early bird games begin at 7:30 p.m.

The jackpot amount set for August 3rd is $400 in 52 numbers and if nobody wins this it will increase to $450 in 53 numbers on the 17th.

A FREE bus will pick up anybody in Madoc Village wishing to attend the games at the seniors apartments on Wellington Street at 7 p.m. and at the United Church at the corner of St. Lawrence St. East and Davidson.

Grant Ketcheson, the Township's Fire Chief is the games caller but last week's games were called by Don Bailey of Cooper.

Back to basically square one for the Centre & South Hastings Waste Management Master Plan Steering Committee

by Janice Pinke

The Centre and South Hastings Waste Management Master Plan Steering Committee met last Thursday afternoon and eliminated four more landfill sites from the list of possibilities, leaving only one remaining site in Rawdon Township.

The Public Advisory Committee (PAC) held a workshop earlier this month and then told the Review that they had basically eliminated two of the seven sites then; Madoc Township's and one in Hungerford Township.

The remaining candidate site is located in the Springbrook area and is known as being on Concession 13, lots 15 and 16.

"It might warrant detailed investigation by (Proctor & Redfern) engineers" says Tom Deline, Vice-Chairman of the Committee and Reeve of Madoc Village but initially these engineers will now have to go back over everything.

The committee and the engineers will now have to basically go back to square one. Re-examining and defining the possibilities of the original list of candidate sites; narrowing down the number again and possibly adding new sites to the list of candidates.

The reason for the committee not investigating the possibility of landfill sites in the south is because of something called 'absolute criteria' set down by our Provincial government.

The PAC made a resolution to the committee last Thursday requesting that they would like to see the committee employ resource personnel (from this area) to get a better understanding of the sites they will be looking at.

The steering committee plans on being less forthcoming in the future when it comes to announcing possible landfill sites. The committee plans on notifying those first, who live within one kilometre of a potential site. Eldon Weiss, committee chairman, also announced that they will not release a location of a site to the public until the consultants had received permission from property owners to inspect a site.

Nonetheless, Tom Deline says that Madoc will be actively involved in recycling within one year and that the Trenton processing plant facility is still a go ahead.

INSULATED ENTRY DOOR SYSTEMS

Galvanized, rigid steel insulated doors have compression weatherstripping to seal out wind and dust, and ensure an airtight system. An extruded aluminum, thermally broken sill protects against condensation and frost build-up. Your choice of co-ordinating side-lights, leaded glass and vented panels let sunlight and fresh air in and beauty to your entryway.

TERRACE DOOR

The new alternative to the patio door, the Terrace Door is a steel insulated door with maintenance-free vinyl cladding. Available as a double or triple door, the operating door opens on 180 degree hinges allowing it to fold all the way back so no space is lost. A sliding screen protects against insects and full length beveled glass is available in a variety of patterns and styles to complement your home.

Quinte Crime Stoppers

Quinte Crime Stoppers in co-operation with Madoc OPP are seeking assistance in solving the following Break, Enter and Theft:

Police report that sometime between June 6th and 13th, 1989, thieves broke into the old school house at Hoards Station. Entry was gained by prying open an old side door which had been shut by two hooks and eyes. It appears the thieves used the same door to remove articles, take them across the yard and move them over the fence.

A neighbour in the area reported seeing a medium size dark car on the road in front of the school house at approximately 10 a.m. on June 13. The witness claimed that the vehicle had its brake lights on. He also thought he observed a vehicle with a yellow top, possibly a truck, on the south side of the school at the same time.

The OPP report states that a lot of antique furniture ranging from dining room tables to chairs and corner cabinets were taken by the thieves. It would appear a truck would have to have been involved to take the items away. A complete list of the items stolen is on file at the Crime Stoppers Office. The value of the goods is over $2,300.00.

If you have any information concerning this crime or if you have possibly seen these items at an auction sale of flea market, Crime Stoppers would like to hear from you.

All burning permits cancelled due to 3-H weather

"The wildfire hazard remains in the high range for the Tweed District," says the Ministry of Natural Resources. "There has been very little rainfall in our area these past few weeks and none being forecasted for the next several days."

"All burning permits for the Tweed district have been cancelled due to hot dry conditions, says MNR fire staff. For more information regarding any burning, please contact your local township or Ministry of Natural Resources office."

Ministry of Natural Resources and Municipal fire staff were kept busy this past week mopping up four new wildfires. Most of these fires were caused by people failing to properly distinguish their campfires.

A total of 66 wildfires have been investigated in the Tweed District since the fire season began April 1, 1989. All but three of these fires were caused by people through such careless acts as burning grass or brush on windy days, failing to properly extinguish their campfires, and discarding live smoking materials onto dry forest fuels.

All outdoor users must take the following precautions to ensure they have a safe campfire:

- * Be sure to choose an area of hard packed earth, sand or rock,
- * Clear away all flammable material,
- * Keep your campfire small and never leave it unattended.

The most important thing to remember is to drown all campfires "DEAD OUT" before leaving the site.

Smoking material is also a significant source of ignition for wildfires. The public is advised to "BE CAREFUL" with all types of smoking materials and matches. Never smoke while walking in the woods; and when driving, always use your ashtray.

Everyone's co-operation is required to help eliminate these potentially dangerous and costly people caused fires. Remember, wildfire prevention is you!

GRANTING A CHILD'S WISH

"The Children's Wish Foundation of Canada is a federally chartered, non-profit organization, whose primary objective is to grant the special wishes of children suffering from a terminal illness. The foundation operates provincial chapters all across Canada. Wish requests are received by provincial directors, who are responsible for obtaining verification and consent from the child's physician. Great care is taken to ascertain that the request is truly the wish of the child. The wish is then processed by the National Office, where the arrangements are completed.

The only stipulation is that the parents or legal guardians must consent to our involvement; a doctor must sign the medical release and the children must not have reached their 18th birthday at the time the request is received. As public awareness has increased, so has the number of children requesting our assistance. In many cases the child's time may be limited and we must take immediate action. This requires a constant source of funds. The foundation's sole means of support is through the donations of companies, unions, service groups and the Canadian public. Please lend support to our objective; that we will never be forced to turn away a wish child. Help us make their dreams come true.

WE WISH TO ACKNOWLEDGE YOUR CONTRIBUTION TO THIS MOST WORTHWHILE CAUSE.
THANK YOU.

The death of Rambo

John Donne, the famous poet, said, "No man is an island." Obviously, Sylvester Stallone has not heard of John Donne. If he had, he would have died a few movies back. Rambo lives on as a reincarnated form of the traditional western gunslinger. Now, I know you are asking, "What does a machine gun toting commando and a ten gallon hat six-shooter have in common?" They both shoot forever. They both take on overwhelming odds. They both live on in each and every episode, all by themselves. They are strong, independent, and untamed characters.

The Hollywood set is not the stage of reality. No one could do what Rambo does. No one can get seven shots out of a six-shooter without reloading.

I was speaking with one of our local residents recently, who just happens to be very knowledgeable in the armoury field. I put this question to him, "How long could a character like Rambo really survive today if placed in the same settings with the same odds?" His answers are still bouncing around in my mind. The first thing my friend mentioned was it would be impossible for Rambo to carry enough resources to do what he does in the movies. The weight of the ammunition alone would cripple him. The second thing he said is that it would be inconceivable for Rambo to be able to take on as many people as he does. One man can not single-handedly fight the number Rambo engages and live.

Today, if you were to become isolated from your army battalion you would be a sitting duck. The enemy would surround and destroy you.

There is a team word we use in describing our relationship to one another in Christ. The terminology we use is the metaphor of the body. Many parts make up the whole. Each part must work together and fulfill its role.

The devil uses the age old strategy of "divide and conquer." "If I can only isolate Christians from one another and give them a Rambo delusion, then I can overcome them one by one," says the devil.

As I look around, it is evident his strategy is working. Let shake the grogginess from our heads and clear our minds. We must stand together in this spiritual battle.

Tip For The Week

A snack of fresh fruit is a nutritious, low-calorie source of dietary fibre and a glorious substitution for many less-than-wholesome alternatives. Keep a variety of fresh fruit in the fridge and, when the hunger hits, watch a good thing catch on.

4-H judging: Members of various local 4-H clubs got together at the Quinlan Farm in Indian River to learn more about the special art of 4-H judging. Rural Organization Specialist, Chuck Lamers, put the helpful workshop together. Lessons learned Wednesday evening will come in handy at the upcoming Juniors Day at the Peterborough Exhibition grounds.

The Wish Children

They know courage well beyond their years, more than some of us will know in a lifetime.

They are children first but they are terminally ill, they do not ask why.

They have all the wants, desires and sensitivities of a healthy child.

They take each day as it comes and are often the glue that binds the family together.

When a smile breaks open on their faces, you know all the pain is forgotten.

For that time all is well.

Charlotte Wannamaker of Cavan is the 1989-90 Kawartha Regional Appaloosa Horse Club's new queen. Charlotte was crowned Saturday evening -- one of the highlights of two-day competition held in Norwood last weekend. Charlotte received flowers courtesy of Cedarbrook Nurseries in Peterborough; and gift certificates from A Change of Clothes in Hastings and the Ritz Pizza in Norwood.

Debra Tate-Sears at the O'Hara Mill this Sunday

by Janice Pinke

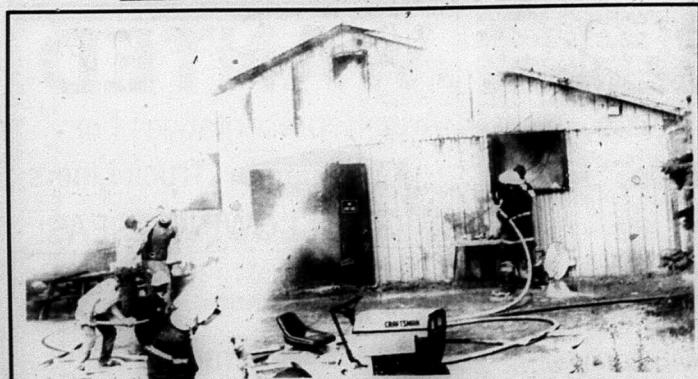

The Quinte area's renowned artist, Debra Tate-Sears, will be appearing, along with several other renowned Hastings County artists and artisans this coming Sunday at the O'Hara Mill northwest of Madoc.

It all begins at 11 a.m. and ends at 5 p.m. Artists and artisans alike will also be demonstrating their unique abilities.

Those also scheduled for this Sunday include Joanne Mann-Smith, Arja Palonen (Studio 737), Willy Schiffrers, Pat Eplett-Hubbard, Robert Huffman, Penny Harrop and many more.

For more info call the O'Hara Mill at (613) 473-2004.

Rabbitry loses shed!

Madoc - An estimated eighty rabbits lost their lives and their home at the Budd's Rabbitry located on highway 62 near Bannockburn last Friday afternoon at approximately 3 p.m. Madoc Township and Madoc Village firefighters responded to the call and credit the fact that the Moira River was close by otherwise more may have been lost in the blaze. The fire itself is still under investigation; the only building lost in the fire was the main building housing the estimated eighty rabbits.

Many people prefer to wait until an interview to discuss their disabilities with an employer. They argue that if you mention your disability in a telephone call or cover letter, you could be rejected immediately as a candidate, before having any real chance to explain your qualifications and address the concerns or misconceptions of the employer.

This opinion may be valid. On the other hand, there could be advantages to mentioning your disability when you are applying for some jobs. For example, if the organization you are applying to has an employment equity program you could have a better chance of getting an interview if the employer knows you have a disability.

It's really up to you to decide. If you want to mention your disability in a telephone call or cover letter, you could do it this way: "I understand your organization has a program (commitment or interest) to increase employment opportunities for people with disabilities. I would like to be considered under the program. I am confident that I can fulfill the requirements of the advertised position, and would be happy to meet with you and discuss my qualifications in detail."

Or you might say that your disability can easily be accommodated and that you would be prepared to discuss it at an interview.

If you do not want to discuss your disability before the interview, but need to know whether a building is accessible, ble, you could call the company anonymously to ask, or visit the location beforehand or have a friend do so for you.

TOLE PICTURE

At the Awareness Week in Quinte Mall in Belleville, Mrs. Gerry Read won the "Tole Picture" that had been donated by local artist Mrs. Ann Bennedetti. Many thanks to you Ann, we know that Gerry is a lucky woman.

"WANTED": GROUPS TO JOIN HAND IN HAND WITH C.P.A.

Yep! We're looking for other groups to join with us to get a bigger bus for the disabled in the beautiful city of Belleville. We are looking at the possibility of trying to get a bigger bus to take all handicapped people to swimming programs and out of the city for field trips, special events in Belleville and also to other towns to meet other handicapped people.

The handicap bus we have now can not go outside city limits, and you have to book so far in advance. The handicapped people find that inconvenient, because some of them can't book that far in advance.

We would also need a mechanic for maintenance and a paid driver to be on call at any time. This would cost a lot of money.

Deaf, blinds and everybody with disabilities, let us get together and get this bus rolling along on the road to a new way of life for all of us. So come on and get on the bandwagon.

For more information: call Connie Burns, 968-8465, Belleville.

NOMINATIONS SOUGHT FOR COMMUNITY ACTION AWARDS

Remo Mancini, Ontario Minister Responsible for disabled Persons announced that 12 Ontario residents who are disabled or who work on behalf of disabled persons will be honored at a ceremony in November. The deadline for nominations for the 1989 Community Action Awards is September 29.

"Recipients will have made an outstanding contribution to their community and have increased public awareness of just how much disabled persons can and do achieve," the Minister explained.

Nominations may be made by individuals or community organizations. The selection committee will look for qualities of leadership and innovation in addition to contributions to society. Additional information outlining details of the program and nomination forms are available from the Ontario Office for Disabled Persons, 16th Floor, 700 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario M5G 1Z6 or by telephoning 965-3165 in Toronto or toll-free 1-800-387-4456 from elsewhere in Ontario.

MORE ABLED THAN DISABLED CLUB
Mark your calendar for our upcoming meeting on Wednesday, Aug. 2nd. Our special guest from Harwell, Ontario will be bringing the newest and latest equipment, wheelchairs, scooters, bathtubs, and also there will be a question period on anything you'd like to know.

So come on out and don't miss this meeting. It promises to be loaded with goodies! Everyone welcome, abled and disabled.

I'll let you know next week, where and when it is to be held. Watch for it in this column.

New oat growers association

Oats has attracted plenty of attention in the last year. Consumers began buying oats like never before after it was reported that oat bran contains a cholesterol-lowering agent. American race horses, who have Canadian oats as a regular part of their diet, have been winning big. And the federal government's decision to change the way Western Canadian Oats are marketed has opened new marketing opportunities for the crop.

The new association has several objectives. Members hope to sponsor and encourage research, address farmers' concerns and issues, and assist with development of extension services for oats growers. They hope to broaden market awareness of Alberta oats and work with government, processors, and traders to jointly develop the industry.

Mr. Kirylchuk says growers in Alberta are interested in promoting the development of value-added oats processing. The association hopes to make the transition to a new marketing system for oats easier for farmers by providing the marketing information they need.

One of the association's first projects now in the planning stages is an oats symposium, probably in late November. The symposium will feature speakers and information on various aspects of the oats industry.

Peter Kirylchuk avidly continues a family practice began in 1935 when his father seeded his first oats crop. And he's carrying that tradition in another direction as he leads a new association of oats growers into a new business environment.

"Marketing of oats is a key issue for farmers now," says Mr. Kirylchuk, president of the Oats Producers Association of Alberta. About 40 farmers who want to strike an aggressive role in marketing formed the association at a meeting in June.

The association was born in Alberta, which grows an average about 40 per cent of Canada's oats.

Oats growers are interested not only in opportunities for high-quality oats, but also with options for lower-quality oats. Growers also want to ensure that new markets for Canadian oats which have been opening in the United States will continue to be supplied.

"We want to capitalize on the attention oats has been receiving," said Mr. Kirylchuk, who farms at Lac LaBiche, Alberta. "The California race horse market in particular is a good opportunity for Alberta oat growers."

CARD OF THANKS

SINCERE Thanks for all cards, visits, prayers and inquiries, while I was a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital and since I returned home. Alex Keene

"THE BUTCHER AND The Baker", Ralph & Kim Woods would like to thank everyone involved in making their wedding a treasure to remember. Sincerely, Ralph & Kim.

THE FAMILY OF the late Wesley David Frederick sincerely thank all of our relatives, neighbours and friends who remembered and helped us in our loss. We are deeply grateful to Rev. & Mrs. Ron Campbell and the ladies of Glad Tidings Tabernacle, and the Wesley Funeral Home for their kindness and understanding. We will never forget the support we received.

THIS SPECIAL Thank you goes out to all family and friends & neighbours for their Best Wishes and Gifts given to us in honour of our 50th Wedding Anniversary. Thank you. Frank & Ruth McLaughlin
